Rescue Effort Launched For 5 In Crashed Plane

BULLETIN

FAIRPLAY, Colo. (AP) — A search party was reported today to have reached a missing plane high on the slopes of Mt. Sherman in the Colorado Rockies and two injured persons were lifted out by helicopter. There were five persons aboard the craft, including an Illinois family of three and another Illinois man.

FAIRPLAY, Colo. (AP) — Two U.S. Army helicopters carrying teams of mountain rescue specialists and paramedics joined today in a massive search for a chartered plane that crash-landed on a Colorado mountainside in below-zero temperature and giant snowdrifts.

The rescue specialists were ready to attempt to defy the treacherous slopes of 14,037-foot Mount Sherman when the twin-engine Cessna carrying an Illinois family of three is sighted. The pilot and another man also were aboard.

A United Air Lines plane flying at about 18,000 feet reportedly picked up two transmissions Wednesday from the downed plane. One said, "We are down." The other reported, "We have injured aboard."

The United pilot said he would fly a radio pattern and asked the pilot of the Cessna to key his radio microphone when the United plane was directly overhead.

The Cessna pilot followed instructions, but the power of the downed plane weakened each time until it lost all contact. It was last heard from shortly after noon Wednesday.

By keying the radio microphone, rescuers expressed belief that they were able to pinpoint the area in which the plane was down.

But howling winds, sometimes reaching 40 miles an hour, made it impossible to see anything, even only 100 feet ahead.

Those aboard the plane were identified as O.W. Rosengren, who has a small ranch where he breeds riding horses in St. Charles, Ill.; his wife, Lorraine; the couple's son, Jack, 20, who works at an auto agency; Charles Budde, 22, of St. Charles, a salesman at the auto agency and a friend of Jack's; and the pilot, Jimmy Williamson, 48, of Denver.

Williamson is an employe of the Clinton Aviation Service, the firm from which Rosengren rented the plane for a skiing trip.

The two helicopters were from Ft. Carson, about 100 miles southeast of Mount Sherman. The reported crash scene is 100 miles southwest of Denver.

One helicopter carried a group of Army alpinists with supplies and the second carried a paramedic team with medical equipment.

One-hundred ground searchers, some riding snow vehicles, and five Civil Air Patrol planes also were trying to reach the crash site.

Mahoning Hearing Set On Pickets At Hospital

Pleas Court To Air Case On Friday

Trucks With Food, Oxygen And Drugs Had Been Stopped

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— A hearing will be held Friday in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court on a request for an injunction to limit picketing at Cafaro Memorial Hospital, where pickets interfered with deliveries of oxygen, food and drugs.

An oxygen truck finally moved through the picket line Wednesday under police guard, giving the hospital a week's supply.

One picket, Lee D. Morgan, a Cleveland representative of the Building Service and Maintenance Union, was arrested and charged with refusing to obey a police officer. Police said Morgan ignored an order not to block the path of the oxygen truck.

Three attempts to deliver oxygen had been blocked by pickets Tuesday, and a hospital official said supplies were running low.

Non-strikers among the hospital's staff of 200 have been bringing food and other supplies into the building. The hospital says only 20 persons including 15 nurses, three nurses' aides, three housekeepers and one maintenance man, have supported the strike of the union's Local 47.

The union struck Saturday seeking reocgnition.

Meanwhile, the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital Association, which operates the hospital, continues negotiations today with the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital Employes Association, which was chosen in a recent election to represent non-professional employes.

Local 47 officials contend that election is invalid because employes they consider ineligible were among the 145 who voted.

Navy Pilots Hit 77 More Water Craft

Claim 2-Day Score Of 188 Barges And Junks Destroyed

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Navy pilots claimed a two-day score today of 188 North Vietnamese supply barges and junks destroyed or damaged and reported losing two carrier planes in their latest raids.

The Navy pilots reported hitting 77 more water craft during forays along the North Vietnamese coast Wednesday to add to 111 reported destroyed or damaged on the previous day.

Other American planes showered Hanoi with 2.2-million psychological warfare leaflets Wednesday and scattered 2.6 million more on other areas of North Vietnam.

The leaflets dropped on the North Vietnamese capital warned that if the Communists continue the war in the South, destruction will follow in the North, a U.S. spokesman said. The other leaflets cautioned the North Vietnamese people that their money would become worth less and less as the war went on.

The ground war in South Vietnam continued in a lull as it has all this week. Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported only minor skirmishes.

U. S. military headquarters reported an increase in American casualties last week — although it included 48 hours of Christmas and New Year truce — while South Vietnamese spokesmen listed a decrease in their casualties.

U.S. officials reported 128 Americans were killed and 634 were wounded, compared with 109 killed and 547 wounded in the previous week. The increase apparently was due to several sharp engagements, including one big action in the central highlands.

Vietnamese headquarters said 146 of their troops were killed last week and 14 were missing.

Claims It's Aimed At Negroes

Powell Labels Ouster Bid As 'Political Conspiracy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell charges the attempt to remove him as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee is a political conspiracy aimed at U.S. Negroes.

From his island retreat in the Bahamas, the Harlem Democrat issued a statement Wednesday night blistering his attackers and promising an all-out fight to retain his chairmanship.

"A political conspiracy of enormous dimensions has not only been mounted against Adam Clayton Powell, but against black political leadership, black people and black progress," he said.

Powell is due to return to the capital this weekend. His fate could be largely sealed Monday when the Democrats caucus meets a day in advance of the opening of the 90th Congress.

Although Powell also faces a challenge to his being seated on Jan. 10, the question of his chairmanship should be settled in the Democratic caucus. Several members already have declared their intention to vote to block Powell's re-election as chairman, including one of Powell's New York colleagues, Democratic Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham.

Bingham said, however, he is not prepared to vote to bar Powell from his House seat. He attacked the House seniority system under which he said two Mississippi Democrats, Reps. William M. Colmer and John Bell Williams, would attain important committee chairmanships this session.

In his four-page statement, Powell ignored the seating challenge and called the fight over the chairmanship "the only issue in this struggle."

As he has in dealing with previous attacks on him, Powell used the fact of his being a Negro as a chief weapon against his critics.

"To what extent," he asked, "are they motivated by the desire to politically castrate one of America's most powerful Negro politicians of his power?"

Furnishing his own reply, he cited "15 facts" in his case and said they lead unequivocally to the conclusion "that a political conspiracy of enormous dimensions involving certain influential members of the press, and, I deeply regret, a number of my colleagues in Congress, has not only been mounted against Adam Clayton Powell but against black political leadership, black people and black progress."

In his statement Powell said he was within both his legal rights and congressional precedent in refusing to appear in court in 1964 for examination in a civil action while Congress was in session. That, and subsequent failures to appear have ballooned a $48,000 libel judgment against him to $164,000 and led to his being convicted of criminal contempt of court and sentenced to 1 year and 60 days in jail.

"I have committed no crime," he said. "My case is still in litigation in the appellate courts of

All 9 Killed In New Jersey Plane Crash

Twin-Engine Air Taxi Goes Down Just After Takeoff

NEW SHREWSBURG, N. J. (AP)—The pilot and all eight passengers were killed today in the crash of a twin-engine Beechcraft air taxi shortly after takeoff from Red Bank Airport, police said.

The Red Bank Air Taxi plane was said to be headed from the privately owned airport in Monmouth County to Kennedy Airport in New York. Further flights from the airport were canceled for the morning.

Police said the plane crashed in a field just off the west end of the runway shortly after takeoff. "There's nothing left of the plane or the passengers but ashes," one witness said.

Firemen reportedly were unable to approach the flaming wreckage at first. Witnesses said it still had a wing-tank full of fuel intact. Finally, firemen extinguished the flames with foam.

Monmouth County doctor C. Malcolm Gilman said the bodies would not be removed from the plane until after Federal Aviation Agency officials arrived to investigate the crash.

Officials at Kennedy Airport reported the twin-engine plane crashed in a light rain with a ceiling of 1,500 feet.

Jet's Cannon Fire Failed To Down Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—A runaway unarmed U.S. missile apparently zoomed over Cuba Wednesday after cannon fire and missiles from a pursuing U.S. jet plane and destruction signals from the ground failed to bring it down, says the Pentagon.

The 650-mile-an-hour Mace missile apparently dropped into the Caribbean about 100 miles south of the southwest coast of Cuba, Air Force calculators reported.

The missile, modified into a target drone, was routinely launched from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., Wednesday morning and headed over the Gulf of Mexico for a test chase by F4 Phantom jets.

But it made a wrong turn and took off at 25,000 feet altitude toward Cuba.

An F4 — which can fly 1,600 miles an hour — caught up with the Mace about 100 miles at sea.

Officials at Eglin AFB tried to trigger the missile's own explosive destruction mechanism.

The F4 pilot hit the missile with cannon fire.

He fired two air-to-air missiles of a type now under development.

Nothing stopped the Mace.

The F4 pilot gave up and came home.

So far, Cuba has not commented publicly.

Traffic Toll Held Down By Games On TV

Meant Cars Were In Garages, Not On Roads On Holidays

CHICAGO (AP) — The heavy fare of televised football on Christmas and New Year's holiday weekends was credited by one safety expert today with holding down the nation's traffic death tolls.

Eyes glued to the tube meant that cars were in garages and not on the road.

It may be just a theory but the fact is that during both three-day holiday weekends the death tolls broke no records. This reversed an upward trend of the preceding eight holiday periods.

Nevertheless, it appeared that the nation's 1966 traffic toll would break the 965 record of 49,000 deaths.

No final count of 1966 deaths will be available until late January or early February, the National Safety Council said. But its 10-month toll, through October, was 43,110 or 9 per cent more than in 1965. One official said the final count could go above 52,000 for 1966.

Tentative final figures from 13 states showed record traffic death counts for last year.

The television football theory for low Christmas and New Year death tolls was advanced by Warren C. Nelson, Ohio's highway safety director.

Bachelor, 32, Denies Theft Of Paintings

LONDON (AP)—Michael Hall, 32, an unemployed London bachelor, was arraigned today on charges of stealing eight old masters worth $7 million from the Dulwich Gallery. He denied the charges.

Police indicated they are looking for two other men and a woman as suspects in history's biggest art theft. All eight paintings—three Rembrandts, three by Rubens, one Elsheimer and one Gerard Dou—were recovered and returned to the gallery Wednesday night. They were in good condition.

The charge was filed against Hall after a long interrogation in which Detective Supt. Charles Hewett told the court that Hall admitted delivering three of the paintings to "a certain address in London."

Hall denied complicity in the robbery. He told the court that when he admitted delivering the three paintings to a London address "I was tired, hungry and fairly cold."

Lausche Sees Spending Cut By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Midwest Democratic senators said today they feel certain the new Congress won't duplicate the spending spree of its predecessor.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio said President Johnson last year recommended appropriations that the House—"tragically in many instances"—increased while the Senate boosted them still more.

"I feel certain," Lausche said, "that this will not happen this year. There will also be a tendency to look with caution on the amounts recommended by the President."

Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin said in a separate interview he favors a big cutback in spending for public works and other programs. He thinks there is a good chance the new Congress will feel as he does.

Single-Engine Plane Crashes In Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP)—A single-engine Cessna crashed and sank in Lake Erie today about five miles off shore, the U.S. Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard spokesman said no wreckage or survivors were sighted by another civilian plane circling the location. He said a helicopter and a 36-foot life boat were en route from the Cleveland Coast Guard station.

Would Be Thinking Of Comeback

Hoffa, If In Pen, Seen As Unable To Run Union

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa wouldn't be able to run the Teamsters Union if he is sent to prison, associates say, but if he does go behind bars he will be thinking of a comeback once he gets out.

Union sources speculate, if Hoffa is sent to jail, how he divides up the union's power will determine whether there is a leadership struggle that may upset his plans.

"The (union) constitution has clearly taken care of that," Hoffa said in reply to questions about his successor as Teamsters' president if he loses his final legal maneuvers to stay out of prison.

But other union officials are not so sure it will turn out the way Hoffa wants, with his Detroit friend, Frank Fitzsimmons, lined up to succeed him as chief of the world's biggest union.

Hoffa, finishing up plans for national trucking negotiations opening in Washington Jan. 17, is publicly keeping a tight rein on his feelings about the possibility of going to prison.

But "he was meaner than hell" in closed sessions with the Teamsters executive board here, one source said, attributing the outburst to the tremendous pressures on Hoffa.

Hoffa has until Feb. 4 to file a request for a new hearing before the Supreme Court, which has already denied his appeal of his eight-year jury tampering prison sentence.

Hoffa expects that if he goes to prison he will be freed before the next union convention and run again for the presidency of the 1.7-million-member union, informed sources said. He was re-elected last July to a new five-year term.

This is based on his hope of being paroled before serving his full sentence.

Union sources say no other ambitious teamsters official is likely to make any bid for Hoffa's job at least until after the trucking negotiations, which have a March 31 deadline.

But once the big trucking contract talks, covering more than 450,000 workers, are out of the way, it may be a different situation.

One Teamsters vice president, asked if Fitzsimmons' successorship to Hoffa was assured indefinitely, said "hell no."

Cooper Will Not Seek Solicitor's Post Again

City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, a veteran of 15 years in the office, amounced today he will not seek a new term in the 1967 primaries.

Cooper, a Democrat, is rounding out his eighth term, which runs until Dec. 31. He was named to the job initially in 1951, replacing John B. McDonald.

Cooper was named to his current term in the 1965 municipal election. Married and a resident of North St., he has been engaged in practice of law in East Liverpool for 25 years.

ANPA Issues Two-Year Report

Press Rejects Bargaining Of Rights

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association, in a report two years in the making, says it could not support any agreement "of control or restrictions on the accurate reporting of criminal matters or anything which would impair such reporting."

The repot was drawn up by a 12-man committee headed by D. Tennant Bryan, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch & News Leader.

"The people's right to know is one of our most fundamental rights, and neither the press nor the bar has the right to sit down and bargain it away," the report said.

"THE COMMITTEE does recommend that the press stand at any time ready to discuss these problems with any appropriate individuals or groups. Indeed, such positive action can be a far greater force for the cause of justice and the general welfare of the people than the negative force of restrictions on basic freedoms.

"But there can be no agreement on the part of the American press to dilute its responsibility or to circumvent the basic rights and provisions of the Constitution. To agree to any of these things would be a mockery of the guarantee made to the people of this republic by its Founding Fathers.

"The freedom of the press is a fundamental right and it cannot be abridged. The press shares with the bench, bar, and law enforcement officials the responsibility for preservation of the American liberties embodied in the First and Sixth Amendments."

The First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees a free press. The Sixth Amendment assures a free trial.

THE STUDY, spurred by the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was applauded by the Associated Press Managing Editors Associatimn and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic society.

The Warren Commission report charged the American press with "irresponsibility and lack of self-discipline."

Since the study began, the question of fair trial reached a pinnacle last spring with the freeing of Samuel H. Sheppard because the U.S. Supreme Court found that "virulent publicity" surrounded his first murder trial.

In throwing out the Cleveland osteopath's second-degree murder conviction, the Supreme Court said it is up to judges "to take such steps by rule and regulation that will protect processes from prejudicial outside interferences."

Immunization of juries from prejudicial news accounts speeded up last October when an American Bar Association study group recommended that in pending criminal cases

Taggart To Make Bid For Wellsville Post

Robert E. Taggart, a Democrat, today announced his candidacy for Wellsville Council.

Taggart said he will seek one of the three at-large seats, a post he held for several years.

A resident of 1927 Chester Ave., Taggart is an employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

He served on Council for several years before declining another term about four years ago. He said he will file with the Columbiana County Election Board within the next two or three days.

Single-Engine Plane Crashes In Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP)—A single-engine Cessna crashed and sank in Lake Erie today about five miles off shore, the U.S. Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard spokesman said no wreckage or survivors were sighted by another civilian plane circling the location. He said a helicopter and a 36-foot life boat were en route from the Cleveland Coast Guard station.

Would Be Thinking Of Comeback

Hoffa, If In Pen, Seen As Unable To Run Union

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa wouldn't be able to run the Teamsters Union if he is sent to prison, associates say, but if he does go behind bars he will be thinking of a comeback once he gets out.

Union sources speculate, if Hoffa is sent to jail, how he divides up the union's power will determine whether there is a leadership struggle that may upset his plans.

"The (union) constitution has clearly taken care of that," Hoffa said in reply to questions about his successor as Teamsters' president if he loses his final legal maneuvers to stay out of prison.

But other union officials are not so sure it will turn out the way Hoffa wants, with his Detroit friend, Frank Fitzsimmons, lined up to succeed him as chief of the world's biggest union.

Hoffa, finishing up plans for national trucking negotiations opening in Washington Jan. 17, is publicly keeping a tight rein on his feelings about the possibility of going to prison.

But "he was meaner than hell" in closed sessions with the Teamsters executive board here, one source said, attributing the outburst to the tremendous pressures on Hoffa.

Hoffa has until Feb. 4 to file a request for a new hearing before the Supreme Court, which has already denied his appeal of his eight-year jury tampering prison sentence.

Hoffa expects that if he goes to prison he will be freed before the next union convention and run again for the presidency of the 1.7-million-member union, informed sources said. He was re-elected last July to a new five-year term.

This is based on his hope of being paroled before serving his full sentence.

Union sources say no other ambitious teamsters official is likely to make any bid for Hoffa's job at least until after the trucking negotiations, which have a March 31 deadline.

But once the big trucking contract talks, covering more than 450,000 workers, are out of the way, it may be a different situation.

One Teamsters vice president, asked if Fitzsimmons' successorship to Hoffa was assured indefinitely, said "hell no."

Cooper Will Not Seek Solicitor's Post Again

City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, a veteran of 15 years in the office, announced today he will not seek a new term in the 1967 primaries.

Cooper, a Democrat, is rounding out his eighth term, which runs until Dec. 31. He was named to the job initially in 1951, replacing John B. McDonald.

Cooper was named to his current term in the 1965 municipal election. Married and a resident of North St., he has been engaged in practice of law in East Liverpool for 25 years.

Taggart To Make Bid For Wellsville Post

Robert E. Taggart, a Democrat, today announced his candidacy for Wellsville Council.

Taggart said he will seek one of the three at-large seats, a post he held for several years.

A resident of 1927 Chester Ave., Taggart is an employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

He served on Council for several years before declining another term about four years ago. He said he will file with the Columbiana County Election Board within the next two or three days.

Bachelor, 32, Denies Theft Of Paintings

LONDON (AP)—Michael Hall, 32, an unemployed London bachelor, was arraigned today on charges of stealing eight old masters worth $7 million from the Dulwich Gallery. He denied the charges.

Police indicated they are looking for two other men and a woman as suspects in history's biggest art theft. All eight paintings—three Rembrandts, three by Rubens, one Elsheimer and one Gerard Dou—were recovered and returned to the gallery Wednesday night. They were in good condition.

The charge was filed against Hall after a long interrogation in which Detective Supt. Charles Hewett told the court that Hall admitted delivering three of the paintings to "a certain address in London."

Hall denied complicity in the robbery. He told the court that when he admitted delivering the three paintings to a London address "I was tired, hungry and fairly cold."

Lead Being Checked In Safecracking Quiz

A possible lead to the safecracking at the Terrace Lanes on Route 30 early Monday was being checked today by West Virginia state police at Weirton.

Articles left behind by the burglars at the scene have provided the clue.

The burglars obtained $1,200 from the safe and about $500 more from eight vending machines which were ripped open.

ANPA Issues Two-Year Report

Press Rejects Bargaining Of Rights

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association, in a report two years in the making, says it could not support any agreement "of control or restrictions on the accurate reporting of criminal matters or anything which would impair such reporting."

The repot was drawn up by a 12-man committee headed by D. Tennant Bryan, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch & News Leader.

"The people's right to know is one of our most fundamental rights, and neither the press nor the bar has the right to sit down and bargain it away," the report said.

"THE COMMITTEE does recommend that the press stand at any time ready to discuss these problems with any appropriate individuals or groups. Indeed, such positive action can be a far greater force for the cause of justice and the general welfare of the people than the negative force of restrictions on basic freedoms.

"But there can be no agreement on the part of the American press to dilute its responsibility or to circumvent the basic rights and provisions of the Constitution. To agree to any of these things would be a mockery of the guarantee made to the people of this republic by its Founding Fathers.

"The freedom of the press is a fundamental right and it cannot be abridged. The press shares with the bench, bar, and law enforcement officials the responsibility for preservation of the American liberties embodied in the First and Sixth Amendments."

The First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees a free press. The Sixth Amendment assures a free trial.

THE STUDY, spurred by the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was applauded by the Associated Press Managing Editors Associatimn and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic society.

The Warren Commission report charged the American press with "irresponsibility and lack of self-discipline."

Since the study began, the question of fair trial reached a pinnacle last spring with the freeing of Samuel H. Sheppard because the U.S. Supreme Court found that "virulent publicity" surrounded his first murder trial.

In throwing out the Cleveland osteopath's second-degree murder conviction, the Supreme Court said it is up to judges "to take such steps by rule and regulation that will protect processes from prejudicial outside interferences."

Immunization of juries from prejudicial news accounts speeded up last October when an American Bar Association study group recommended that in pending criminal cases

650 Chicago Junior College Teachers Postpone Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike by about 650 teachers at eight Chicago junior colleges was postponed late Wednesday night, but another walkout by elementary and high school teachers appeared to be gaining momentum.

Norman G. Swenson, president of Local 1600 of the Cook County Teachers Union, announced the junior college strike, set to begin today, would be delayed at least one day.

Swenson said he received assurances from the Chicago Junior College Board that an increased wage-hike proposal would be made at a negotiating session today.

Preparations for the strike were begun after a similar meeting between Swenson and the board failed to come to terms Wednesday.

Members of the local had been preparing for the walkout in defiance of a court injunction issued during an earlier three-day boycott Nov. 30.

"As far as we're concerned the injunction has no meaning," a local spokesman said. "The right to strike is the inherent right of every employe in the United States."

In another dispute, teachers in the city's elementary and high schools said they too may strike in the near future.

John E. Desmond, president of the Chicago Teachers Union said Wednesday members of the CTU might set a strike date at a meeting tonight.

Desmond said members of his organization are asking for a total $1,000 raise for 1967. The Chicago Board of Education has offered a $150 increase.

5 Crewmen Hurt When Their Train Rams Idle Cars

MACEDONIA, Ohio (AP) — Five crewmen were injured Wednesday night when their Pennsylvania Railroad train rammed a string of idle railroad cars on a spur track in this Summit County village.

All were admitted to a hospital in Warrensville Heights, Cuyahoga County.

Engineer V. Pawlowski, 51, Garfield Heights, among the injured, told authorities he had received a signal that the track, leading from Chrysler Corp.'s Twinsburg Stamping Plant, was clear ahead.

But it ran into the parked cars, derailing two of them while incurring moderate damage to the engine.

Masferrer Says 'Informers' Scotched Haiti Invasion Plot

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The leader of a commando strike force, Rolando Masferrer, says "paid informers" scotched his plan to invade Haiti and move against Fidel Castro from there. He vows he'll try again.

"They were United States informers, not Castro agents," said Masferrer after his release Wednesday with 24 followers who had been arrested on charges of conspiring to export arms without license.

The battle-clad commandos, appearing before U.S. Commissioner William Albury, were freed on their own recognizance, on bonds from $100 to $5,000. Arraignments were set for Jan. 25.

But Masferrer still faced charges of violating immigration orders not to leave New York City, where he lives. As a U.S. marshal took him to Miami, members of his invasion army shouted insults and kicked the car.

The former Cuban senator, called "The Tiger" because under overthrown President Fulgencia Batista he had a private army called "The Tigers," said in an interview: "We would welcome the help of the United States, which is the policeman of the hemisphere. The United States sends men — Cubans as well as Americans — to Vietnam, 10,000 miles away. They shouldn't stop us from fighting communism 90 miles away."

Masferrer, 48, said his invasion force numbered 350. Seventy-nine persons were arrested.

He Encountered Wrong Auto In Near Collision

LIMA, Ohio (AP)— Motorist Robert M. Wright, 31, of Lima, encountered the wrong car when involved Wednesday in a near-pileup near Gomer.

Wright's auto and one operated by Lewis J. Klass, 47, of Rt. 2, Ottawa, nearly collided at a rural intersection in northern Allen County. Klass swerved to avoid collision and rammed a pole.

Nobody was injured — except Klass' passenger.

And that, it turned out, was Putnam County Sheriff James Ruhe, 44.

Ruhe was treated for a banged-up right foot.

Dies At 92 In Native Scotland

Mary Garden, Opera Star Of 'Golden Age,' Claimed

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Mary Garden, one of the first opera stars to act as well as sing, has died at 92 after five years in a hospital in her native city of Aberdeen. She was one of the last survivors of the legendary "Golden Age" of opera.

Although there were some dissenting opinions about the quality of her singing, Miss Garden's strong soprano voice, her beauty and dramatic ability and her outspoken charm made her an idol of operagoers in the United States and Europe from 1900 until her retirement in 1931.

She became a friend of kings, presidents and the wealthy, and wrote a book about her operatic successes and lovers. But she put her career ahead of romance and never married.

When she died Tuesday, enfeebled and alone, there was a Christmas card from an unidentified American admirer above her bed.

Born Feb. 20, 1874, Miss Garden was brought to the United States by her parents when she was 6. She studied the violin and piano then went to Paris at 22 as a voice student.

She was in the audience at the Opera Comique four years later — on Friday, April 13, 1900 — when the star became ill in the third act of Charpentier's "Louise." She took over the role and sang it for 100 performances.

Claude Debussy created the role of Melisande for her in "Pelleas et Melisande," which opened in Paris two years later. "You are the only Melisande," the composer wrote in her score.

In 1907, Miss Garden made her American debut in "Thais" in New York, where she sang at the Manhattan Opera House under the sponsorship of Oscar Hammerstein I. She moved to Chicago three years later and sang with the Civic Opera Company there for 21 years.

She became general manager of the Chicago company in 1921 but resigned after a year of tempestuous clashes with other artists and a huge deficit.

Miss Garden returned to Aberdeen after her retirement from opera but continued to give concerts, lectures and broadcasts. She returned to the United States a number of times, the last in 1954.

Palestine Youths Cited In Laundry Vandalism Count

EAST PALESTINE — Police are holding two teen-age boys on charges of vandalism following their apprehension shortly after noon Wednesday on N. Market St. on charges of entering the East Palestine Laundromat Tuesday night and damaging three washing machines and a popcorn vending device.

Police also said the two damaged some light fixtures at City Park. Several other local establishments also reported minor acts of vandalism Tuesday night.

One of the youths, 18, was given a preliminary hearing last night before Mayor Robert Harding. He pleaded guilty and sentencing was deferred. The other boy, 17, will appear before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin today at Lisbon.

Nick Ieropoli of Lisbon, owner of the laundromat, said damage to his property totaled $50.

ANPA

police, prosecutors and defense attorneys be barred from making public "potentially prejudicial information."

—:—

SINCE THEN, judges and police officers have been issuing new rules telling the press what crime information news media will be permitted to have and what procedures must be followed in news reports of arrests and trials.

The ANPA study called the Warren Commission charge "unwarranted."

"In that crisis on Nov. 22, 1963," the study said, "the American press was called upon to carry out its responsibility to the people — to tell them not only what had happened, but how the country met the crisis. It was these facts provided by the American press that steadied a reeling nation and shocked and startled world. The American press should have been commended rather than censured for its performance."

Taking up the Sheppard case, the report said:

"It should be pointed out, however, that here the court was dealing with the unusual and not typical case, and the majority opinion, eight to one, makes it clear that the court's words are meant to apply to what the trial judge in the Sheppard case should have done, not what judges should do in every case. It is obvious that there is no mandate in the Sheppard case for judges across the land."

THE REPORT drew 10 conclusions. They were:

1. There is no real conflict between the First Amendment guaranteeing a free press and the Sixth Amendment which guarantees a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury.

2. The presumption of some members of the bar that pretrial news is intrinsically prejudicial is based on conjecture and not on fact.

3. To fulfill its function, a free press requires not only freedom to print without prior restraint but also free and uninhibited access to information that should be public.

4. There are grave inherent dangers to the public in the restriction or censorship at the source of news, among them, secret arrest and ultimately secret trial.

5. The press is a positive influence in assuring fair trial.

6. The press has a responsibility to allay public fears and dispel rumors by the disclosure of fact.

7. No rare and isolated case should serve as cause for censorship and violation of constitutional guarantees.

8. Rules of court and other orders which restrict the release of information by law enforcement officers are an unwarranted judicial invasion of the executive branch of government.

9. There can be no codes or covenants which compromise the principles of the Constitution.

10. The people's right to a free press, which inherently embodies the right of the people to know, is one of our most fundamental rights and neither the press nor the bar has the right to sit down and bargain it away.

New Contest Planned For 'Fitness' Group

Plans to launch a new membership contest were discussed during a meeting of the East Liverpool Women's Physical Fitness Club Wednesday night at the Eagles Hall.

The contest, which will begin Monday, will be based on losing the most weight over a three-month period. Mrs. Jackie McVay, president, led a discussion on proper foods to eat and weight control. Miss Shirley Hartt resigned as secretary.

Weigh-in for January will be held Monday night at the hall.

Two Are Cited In Accidents

A city man was cited and a Negley woman injured slightly in two accidents investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Charged with failure to yield the right-of-way was John E. Wolfe of Milbourne Ave. after his 1966 pickup truck backed into the path of a southbound 1966 model convertible driven by George Richard Brooks, 26, of Wellsville R. D. 1 Wednesday.

The mishap occurred on Route 267 near the Glenmoor fire station. Officers said there was moderate damage to both vehicles.

Mildred E. Noling, 23, of Negley R.D. 1 was treated at Salem City Hospital for injries to her hand and ankle when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident on County Road 421 near New Waterford.

Officers said Mrs. Noling was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Richard Daniel Noling, 30, which went out of control on the narrow road at 12:30 a.m. today. The 1960 sedan reportedly left the right side of the road, came back onto the highway, veered to the left and struck a road sign and a tree.

Police said the vehicle then spun around, striking two trees and a small building owned by H. P. Hoffstot of Pittsburgh. Before coming to rest, the auto knocked down a road marker and warning sign. Damage was "severe" to the Noling auto, but the driver was not injured. Noling was cited for driving at speed excessive for conditions.

games on TV over the weekend might have kept many home viewers near their screens and not on the roads," he said.

The nation's three-day Christmas traffic toll was 584, well below the safety council's preholiday estimate of 650 to 750 deaths. The toll for the three-day New Year weekend was 469. The council had estimated 460 to 540. A year earlier, the New Year toll was 564 for a three-day period, a record. The 720 toll for Christmas, 1965, was a record, piled up during a four-day holiday.

Traffic volume was reported lighter than usual in many sections of the nation, especially during the Christmas weekend when a heavy snowstorm immobilized much of the nation's heavily populated eastern half.

But the travel for the entire year of 1966 throughout the nation was about 930 billion miles, up substantially from 880 billion miles in 1965. The country's motor vehicle registrations rose from 91.3 million in 1965 to 96 million last year.

Incomplete figures showed record traffic tolls for the year in 18 states.

Among states with record tolls last year were California, where a preliminary count of 4,784 was reported, topping the record of 4,743 set in 1964, and Texas where an incomplete toll of 3,087 for 1966 was expected to come to around 3,400 after accounting for deaths resulting from accidents but occurring days to weeks later. The Texas record formerly was 3,028 in 1965.

Dies At 92 In Native Scotland

Mary Garden, Opera Star Of 'Golden Age,' Claimed

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Mary Garden, one of the first opera stars to act as well as sing, has died at 92 after five years in a hospital in her native city of Aberdeen. She was one of the last survivors of the legendary "Golden Age" of opera.

Although there were some dissenting opinions about the quality of her singing, Miss Garden's strong soprano voice, her beauty and dramatic ability and her outspoken charm made her an idol of operagoers in the United States and Europe from 1900 until her retirement in 1931.

She became a friend of kings, presidents and the wealthy, and wrote a book about her operatic successes and lovers. But she put her career ahead of romance and never married.

When she died Tuesday, enfeebled and alone, there was a Christmas card from an unidentified American admirer above her bed.

Born Feb. 20, 1874, Miss Garden was brought to the United States by her parents when she was 6. She studied the violin and piano then went to Paris at 22 as a voice student.

She was in the audience at the Opera Comique four years later — on Friday, April 13, 1900 — when the star became ill in the third act of Charpentier's "Louise." She took over the role and sang it for 100 performances.

Claude Debussy created the role of Melisande for her in "Pelleas et Melisande," which opened in Paris two years later. "You are the only Melisande," the composer wrote in her score.

In 1907, Miss Garden made her American debut in "Thais" in New York, where she sang at the Manhattan Opera House under the sponsorship of Oscar Hammerstein I. She moved to Chicago three years later and sang with the Civic Opera Company there for 21 years.

She became general manager of the Chicago company in 1921 but resigned after a year of tempestuous clashes with other artists and a huge deficit.

Miss Garden returned to Aberdeen after her retirement from opera but continued to give concerts, lectures and broadcasts. She returned to the United States a number of times, the last in 1954.

Palestine Youths Cited In Laundry Vandalism Count

EAST PALESTINE — Police are holding two teen-age boys on charges of vandalism following their apprehension shortly after noon Wednesday on N. Market St. on charges of entering the East Palestine Laundromat Tuesday night and damaging three washing machines and a popcorn vending device.

Police also said the two damaged some light fixtures at City Park. Several other local establishments also reported minor acts of vandalism Tuesday night.

One of the youths, 18, was given a preliminary hearing last night before Mayor Robert Harding. He pleaded guilty and sentencing was deferred. The other boy, 17, will appear before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin today at Lisbon.

Nick Ieropoli of Lisbon, owner of the laundromat, said damage to his property totaled $50.

ANPA

police, prosecutors and defense attorneys be barred from making public "potentially prejudicial information."

—:—

SINCE THEN, judges and police officers have been issuing new rules telling the press what crime information news media will be permitted to have and what procedures must be followed in news reports of arrests and trials.

The ANPA study called the Warren Commission charge "unwarranted."

"In that crisis on Nov. 22, 1963," the study said, "the American press was called upon to carry out its responsibility to the people — to tell them not only what had happened, but how the country met the crisis. It was these facts provided by the American press that steadied a reeling nation and shocked and startled world. The American press should have been commended rather than censured for its performance."

Taking up the Sheppard case, the report said:

"It should be pointed out, however, that here the court was dealing with the unusual and not typical case, and the majority opinion, eight to one, makes it clear that the court's words are meant to apply to what the trial judge in the Sheppard case should have done, not what judges should do in every case. It is obvious that there is no mandate in the Sheppard case for judges across the land."

—:—

THE REPORT drew 10 conclusions. They were:

1. There is no real conflict between the First Amendment guaranteeing a free press and the Sixth Amendment which guarantees a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury.

2. The presumption of some members of the bar that pretrial news is intrinsically prejudicial is based on conjecture and not on fact.

3. To fulfill its function, a free press requires not only freedom to print without prior restraint but also free and uninhibited access to information that should be public.

4. There are grave inherent dangers to the public in the restriction or censorship at the source of news, among them, secret arrest and ultimately secret trial.

5. The press is a positive influence in assuring fair trial.

6. The press has a responsibility to allay public fears and dispel rumors by the disclosure of fact.

7. No rare and isolated case should serve as cause for censorship and violation of constitutional guarantees.

8. Rules of court and other orders which restrict the release of information by law enforcement officers are an unwarranted judicial invasion of the executive branch of government.

9. There can be no codes or covenants which compromise the principles of the Constitution.

10. The people's right to a free press, which inherently embodies the right of the people to know, is one of our most fundamental rights and neither the press nor the bar has the right to sit down and bargain it away.

New Contest Planned For 'Fitness' Group

Plans to launch a new membership contest were discussed during a meeting of the East Liverpool Women's Physical Fitness Club Wednesday night at the Eagles Hall.

The contest, which will begin Monday, will be based on losing the most weight over a three-month period. Mrs. Jackie McVay, president, led a discussion on proper foods to eat and weight control. Miss Shirley Hartt resigned as secretary.

Weigh-in for January will be held Monday night at the hall.

Two Are Cited In Accidents

A city man was cited and a Negley woman injured slightly in two accidents investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Charged with failure to yield the right-of-way was John E. Wolfe of Milbourne Ave. after his 1966 pickup truck backed into the path of a southbound 1966 model convertible driven by George Richard Brooks, 26, of Wellsville R. D. 1 Wednesday.

The mishap occurred on Route 267 near the Glenmoor fire station. Officers said there was moderate damage to both vehicles.

Mildred E. Noling, 23, of Negley R.D. 1 was treated at Salem City Hospital for injries to her hand and ankle when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident on County Road 421 near New Waterford.

Officers said Mrs. Noling was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Richard Daniel Noling, 30, which went out of control on the narrow road at 12:30 a.m. today. The 1960 sedan reportedly left the right side of the road, came back onto the highway, veered to the left and struck a road sign and a tree.

Police said the vehicle then spun around, striking two trees and a small building owned by H. P. Hoffstot of Pittsburgh. Before coming to rest, the auto knocked down a road marker and warning sign. Damage was "severe" to the Noling auto, but the driver was not injured. Noling was cited for driving at speed excessive for conditions.

A Great Step Forward

Council took a gigantic step in the right direction Tuesday night with its instructions to the finance committee to set aside some $80,000 a year out of income tax revenue to be used solely for street improvements.

The action implemented a policy that has been discussed frequently ever since East Liverpool had its first city income tax in 1958. But too many other pressing demands for money took precedence and the city never was able to set aside a large sum on a consistent basis for a long-range street program.

But the chances are excellent that the policy will be followed in 1967. As Mayor George E. Willshaw pointed out to Council in his annual report, all the city's rolling stock is in good condition and there is no backlog of bills being carried forward into 1967. All departments finished the year in the black.

It was the need to replace equipment and catch up with unpaid obligations that ate into the income tax revenue heavily in the first few years.

As is the case with any budget—city or family—the demands will exceed the available funds. That's a fact of human nature.

But, just as a well-managed family holds its spending within bounds, the men who hold the municipal purse strings will be forced to judge each request for money against its actual worth to the city as a whole.

Hundreds of small items have a way of eating up even the biggest cash reserves.

In deciding to set aside 25 per cent of the income tax revenue to improve streets on a consistent basis, Council has struck a chord close to the heart of every East Liverpool resident.

Sound management, emphasizing the ability to say "no" to proposed expenditures that are not essential, will leave that $80,000 intact each year for street work.

The people who pay the taxes want better streets. Council is well aware of the need.

We are confident the need can be met, as Council envisioned, with continued sound management and a spirit of cooperation between the administrative and legislative branches of the local government.

Attacking The Deserts

The Indian Government, after 15 years of study and planning, is ready to begin a program to transform the Rajputana Desert into an arable, livable area.

The Central Arid Land Research Institute has developed a strain of millet capable of yielding 3,500 pounds per acre in the desert land, compared to the present 400 to 500 pounds.

The institute has developed varieties of trees that will grow in the desert to provide shade, windbreaks, firewood, building materials as well as stabalize sand dunes.

Irrigation still is the greatest hope for full utilization of the 80,000-square-mile desert.

The Indian government is building a 300-mile canal to irrigate about 460,000 acres when completed in 1970.

The Rajputana project is a bright hope for a hungry nation, but three years is a long time.

India's food problem is becoming more acute with the passing of each day.

Some nations have held back food shipments for fear India would come to rely on handouts and not utilize its own production potential.

Programs like the Rajputana effort will show the world India is trying to raise its production levels.

With this in mind, other countries will be more inclined to help meet the growing crisis.

No Further Details

Scotland Yard, in the immemorial manner of police spokesman who hide lack of information behind a veil of silence, says it will furnish no further details about recovery of the eight valuable paintings stolen from an art gallery a few days ago.

The paintings have been recovered.

That is all.

Suspects are being questioned, but there are no further details.

It is possible to imagine the story Scotland Yard does not choose to tell.

Even the dumbest art thief knows it is impossible to sell a well-known masterpiece. Valuable paintings are not stolen for sale value.

But wouldn't it be feasible to steal them for insurance value? One of the eight paintings, "Girl at a Window"—a Rembrandt—was valued at $2.8 million.

An insurance company could afford to pay substantial money for its recovery at that valuation. A phone call and a ransom payment with no questions asked, with a subsequent anonymous call to tell the police where the loot could be recovered would be a perfect crime.

Scotland Yard isn't talking.

It may know something that doesn't bear discussion.

Riding The Dodgem

By Truman Twill

Across the boulevard from our hotel in Palermo, in Sicily, was the city showgrounds. One of the rides was the Dodgem.

This could be called an Italian driving school. We thought of it this way in admiration, not derogation.

A run-of-mine driver from the United States would not survive a day in big-city traffic in Italy. He wouldn't know how to dodge.

If driving an American-size car, he would not survive an hour. He would get hung up on a tight turn at the end of a narrow street, if he had not already run over a pedestrian or crushed a Fiat.

Italians are skilled in the art of defensive driving, which only recently has begun to make an impact on the thinking of safety experts in the United States.

They watch out for the other fellow.

They are scrupulously careful about pedestrians. In big cities like Milan, with 850,000 cars for 1,600,000 residents, they say the pedestrian is king.

What looks like an invitation to sudden death, when a pedestrian steps off the curb and holds up his hand, is in reality a formula for pedestrian survival.

Drivers actually stop for pedestrians.

There are relatively few traffic lights but many intersections where traffic is kept flowing with four-way stop and yield signs. This makes respect for pedestrian rights mandatory — and what a thrill it is for an outsider to stop a line of traffic by holding up his hand and starting across the street.

Modern Italy is the result of the Italian Fiat, a remarkable line of autos that come in all sizes from ultra-small to a model comparable to the compacts Detroit was making a few years ago.

Fiats are ubiquitous. They are easy on cost. They perform well. They are nimble. They are designed for the kind of driving Italians do — narrow city streets, hairpin turns on mountain roads, congested traffic on main thoroughfares.

The Fiat we drove from Naples to Palermo was easy-riding and easy-driving. It was a gasoline miser and an effortless shifter.

Italy has all makes of European cars but only rarely a U. S.-made car, for an obvious reason; it would be a monstrosity in a country whose city streets often are so narrow there is room for only one lane of traffic with cars parked halfway on the sidewalk on only one side of the street.

Circumstances have created a kind of driving that works well — the Dodgem technique, which looks like chaos at first sight. But when you watch it over a period of time; especially from a vantage point high in the air as we did while waiting Christmas dinner in Naples atop the Mediterraneo Hotel, it's as logical as the movement of iron filings in a magnetic field.

Everybody gets where he wants to go with a minimum of wasted motion.

When traffic jams develop, as they inevitably do, everybody takes them good naturedly. Nobody gets sore.

The suggestion will offend traffic know-it-alls, but it might be a good idea to send them to places like Rome, Milan and, oh yes, Venice, to see how other people handle traffic.

There are no autos in Venice, of course. If you don't like to ride aquatic street cars, you walk. It's restful, which is how Venice aims to be.

Open Door Policy!

The Human Engineer

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

There is a new science in this country which is called "Human engineering." The object of human engineering, as I understand it, is to fit human beings into inhuman conditions.

Art Buchwald

I made this discovery while riding on an airplane from New York to Washington the other day. Seated next to me was a man who was taking very careful measurement of the space between us and then writting it in a notebook.

I asked him what he was doing and he said he was a human engineer and it was his job to see how many people he could squeeze on an airplane without doing permanent bodily harm to the passengers.

"We used to have five seats across," he said proudly, "but we've managed to put another seat in each row and you can see we can now get six people across."

"How on earth did you do it?" I asked him.

"W ceut the center aisle in half. The passengers have to walk sideways but just think of what the extra seats mean to the company's payload."

"Which of course, is all that you're worried about."

"YOU CAN BET your sweet whistle on that," he said. "I'm very concerned though that there still seems to be room between your knees and the seat in front of you."

"Only about two inches." I said.

"Well, if you take two inches away here and two inches away there, you can put another row of seats on the plane."

"Then my knees should be flush against the seat ahead?"

"Naturally, my dear boy. You can't expect leg room on such a short hop. One more thing. I was wondering how you feel about a reclining seat as opposed to a stationary one?"

"I prefer a reclining seat. It gives me a chance to rest a little."

He started writing in his book, "Customer too tempted by reclining chair, so I strongly recommend stationary kind which will allow us two more rows in back.

He looked at me "You came on board with a package. What did you do with it?"

"I put it under my seat."

He wrote again, "Customer can still get package under seat which means we're wasting valuable space which could better be used for air freight."

"You people really think of everything," I said.

"WE TRY TO," he replied, "but it's a struggle. There are a lot of people in the aviation business who are behind the times and we have to show them that their best interests lie not with the passengers but with the stockholders. I'm having a devil of a time trying to get the company to remove the arm rests."

"You want to do away with the arm rests?"

"Of course. If you did away wih the arm rests everyone would be forced to sit closer together and we could get eight people in a row."

"Say, have you ever though of putting people in the baggage rack overhead?" I ask him.

He studied it for a few minites. "It could be done if we could fit them in horizontally." He made another note. "Check about stuffing people into overhead baggage rack."

"You covered all the bases," I said in admiration.

"Not quite," he said, staring at the washrooms.

Four Points

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

For months there have been hints — or they could be so interpreted — that the North Vietnamese Communists might be softening conditions under which they might talk peace with the United states.

There is a vast distinction between agreeing to peace talks and a final agreement on peace. There has been no visible change at all on the conditions for peace laid down by the North Vietnamese long ago.

They put forth four points and have not departed from them. So any hints of a willingness to start talking peace — even if such talks began — is a long way from a final settlement.

But the Johnson administration has been anxious to get the talks started, at least, since they would have to be a necessary preliminary to any settlement anyway.

LAST FALL, for instance, the administration proposed peace negotiations, only to see the gesture spurned by the Reds. Nevertheless, it was in the very process of spurning that some observers felt they saw less rigidity by Hanoi.

Now, according to the New York Times, Premier Phan Van Dong of North Vietnam says his government's four-point demands are not necessarily conditions for peace talks, but rather a "basis for settlement of the Vietnam problem."

The Times' correspondent, Harrison E. Salisbury, interviewed the premier and quoted him as saying, "The big question is to reach a settlement which can be enforced."

In this interview the North Vietnamese leader expressed great willingness to wait for peace talks or a peace settlement, saying, "We cannot press history forward."

This "we're not in a rush" attitude is, and has been, exasperating to the American mind which wants peace and wonders how such a small nation as North Vietnam has the gall to keep on fighting a giant like the United States.

But the North Vietnamese mind is Asian, not American, and can be very ambiguous. Its ambiguities in this war go away back. For instance:

Even more than a year ago it was not clear from North Vietnam's statements whether it was saying the United States must withdraw all its forces before peace talks can begin or simply saying they must be withdrawn before there can be peace.

THE FIRST of North Vietnam's four conditions for a peaceful solution demanded that all U.S. troops and weapons must be withdrawn and there must be an end to acts of war against the North before there can be a settlement.

These were, and are, North Vietnam's other three points:

Neither side, North or South, must have any alliance with a foreign power, pending reunification of North and South; any settlement in South Vietnam must be in accordance with the program of the Viet Cong, and the reunification of the two Vietnams must be done without outside influence.

But this isn't quite the way the United States sees a peace settlement, if it is to have reality and meaning.

At the Manila conference last October — with the heads of six allied nations involved in this war, including South Vietnam — President Johnson agreed among other things that: The allied forces will be withdrawn "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, ceases infiltration and the level of violence thus subsides."

There was a big loophole in this, of course: The allies would do the deciding when the "level of violence" had subsided, which means they might not feel it had subsided for a long time and, therefore, think it necessary to stay in South Vietnam a long time.

Odd Facts

American teen-agers, according to a recent estimate, have about $7 billion to spend a year. About 30 per cent earn their money baby-sitting and in other such part-time jobs, 45 per cent receive allowances and 22 per cent realize income from both sources.

If you were to travel straight south from Miami, you would touch only the western coast of South America. Going straight south from New Orleans, you would miss South America altogether.

Spellman Backed For Viet Stand

Many clergymen have said things about the Vietnam war that amount to aid and comfort to the enemy.

But the moment a prominent churchman defends and supports his own country, he is jumped on not merely by the Communist press but even by some editorial writers in the United States.

Cardinal Spellman visited American servicemen in Vietnam and other Far East areas during Christmas week. Should he have told them they must not fight hard and that if guns are directed at them by the enemy they must not fire back?

Was he right when he told the troops they are "defending the cause of righteousness"? In a Christmas Eve sermon at a military base near Saigon, he said:

"This war in Vietnam is, I believe, a war for civilization. Certainly it is not a war of our seeking. It is a war thrust on us, and we cannot yield to tyranny, and so has said our President and the secretary of state. . . .

"We do hope and pray . . . we shall soon have the viciory for which all of us in Vietnam and all over the world are praying and hoping, for less than victory is inconceivable."

HOW DOES ONE improve the morale of fighting men?

Can it be done by telling them, in effect, that they must compromise on the battlefield itself?

Such doctrines are in line with recent utterances by those clergymen who assert that the military forces of the United States must not retaliate against the vicious attacks made by Communist guerrillas on South Vietnamese civilians as well as on American troops.

It was natural for the Communist press abroad to assail Cardinal Spellman and denounce him as "satan in a priest's cloak." But it was surprising to read an editorial in this country which declared:

"What the cardinal said has shocked a great many people. It would have been possible for him to have comforted, inspired and encouraged young Americans enduring a cruel and often agonizing experience so far from home without calling for what amounts to total victory."

CARDINAL SPELLMAN did not advocate what is commonly called "total victory." Nor did he say anything that could possibly be construed as opposition to a peace negotiation itself.

His philosophy was summed up in the words he spoke at a naval base in the Philippines, when he talked to men who had seen action the Vietnam war. He said:

"I believe that, in these circumstances, you are not only serving your country, but you are serving God, because you are defending the cause of righteousness, the cause of civilization and God's cause."

Cardinal Spellman throughout his distinguished career has made many an address that has given people a better understanding of moral principles in American life.

As military vicar for Catholics in the U.S. armed forces, he has for 25 consecutive years spent Christmas with American troops abroad.

He might have delivered in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City a sermon championing abstract principles in international affairs.

But in the middle of a war, a chaplain speaking at a military camp doesn't tell soldiers they are engaged in an unmoral mission and must not respond vigorously to the enemy's use of force.

THERE IS really no difference between the Vatican's point of view and Cardinal Sepllman's, though reports from Rome hint that there are discrepancies.

The Pope, to be sure, is trying assiduously to bring about peace by attempting to appeal to the enemy on humane grounds, but he doesn't deny the right of self-defense to a people who are victims of aggression.

The actual conditions of war can hardly be ignored by any writer in the American press. Nor can patriotism be considered to have been abolished either for troops in the front line or for Americans back home.

A Great Step Forward

Council took a gigantic step in the right direction Tuesday night with its instructions to the finance committee to set aside some $80,000 a year out of income tax revenue to be used solely for street improvements.

The action implemented a policy that has been discussed frequently ever since East Liverpool had its first city income tax in 1958. But too many other pressing demands for money took precedence and the city never was able to set aside a large sum on a consistent basis for a long-range street program.

But the chances are excellent that the policy will be followed in 1967. As Mayor George E. Willshaw pointed out to Council in his annual report, all the city's rolling stock is in good condition and there is no backlog of bills being carried forward into 1967. All departments finished the year in the black.

It was the need to replace equipment and catch up with unpaid obligations that ate into the income tax revenue heavily in the first few years.

As is the case with any budget—city or family—the demands will exceed the available funds. That's a fact of human nature.

But, just as a well-managed family holds its spending within bounds, the men who hold the municipal purse strings will be forced to judge each request for money against its actual worth to the city as a whole.

Hundreds of small items have a way of eating up even the biggest cash reserves.

In deciding to set aside 25 per cent of the income tax revenue to improve streets on a consistent basis, Council has struck a chord close to the heart of every East Liverpool resident.

Sound management, emphasizing the ability to say "no" to proposed expenditures that are not essential, will leave that $80,000 intact each year for street work.

The people who pay the taxes want better streets. Council is well aware of the need.

We are confident the need can be met, as Council envisioned, with continued sound management and a spirit of cooperation between the administrative and legislative branches of the local government.

Attacking The Deserts

The Indian Government, after 15 years of study and planning, is ready to begin a program to transform the Rajputana Desert into an arable, livable area.

The Central Arid Land Research Institute has developed a strain of millet capable of yielding 3,500 pounds per acre in the desert land, compared to the present 400 to 500 pounds.

The institute has developed varieties of trees that will grow in the desert to provide shade, windbreaks, firewood, building materials as well as stabalize sand dunes.

Irrigation still is the greatest hope for full utilization of the 80,000-square-mile desert.

The Indian government is building a 300-mile canal to irrigate about 460,000 acres when completed in 1970.

The Rajputana project is a bright hope for a hungry nation, but three years is a long time.

India's food problem is becoming more acute with the passing of each day.

Some nations have held back food shipments for fear India would come to rely on handouts and not utilize its own production potential.

Programs like the Rajputana effort will show the world India is trying to raise its production levels.

With this in mind, other countries will be more inclined to help meet the growing crisis.

No Further Details

Scotland Yard, in the immemorial manner of police spokesman who hide lack of information behind a veil of silence, says it will furnish no further details about recovery of the eight valuable paintings stolen from an art gallery a few days ago.

The paintings have been recovered.

That is all.

Suspects are being questioned, but there are no further details.

It is possible to imagine the story Scotland Yard does not choose to tell.

Even the dumbest art thief knows it is impossible to sell a well-known masterpiece. Valuable paintings are not stolen for sale value.

But wouldn't it be feasible to steal them for insurance value? One of the eight paintings, "Girl at a Window"—a Rembrandt—was valued at $2.8 million.

An insurance company could afford to pay substantial money for its recovery at that valuation. A phone call and a ransom payment with no questions asked, with a subsequent anonymous call to tell the police where the loot could be recovered would be a perfect crime.

Scotland Yard isn't talking.

It may know something that doesn't bear discussion.

Riding The Dodgem

By Truman Twill

Across the boulevard from our hotel in Palermo, in Sicily, was the city showgrounds. One of the rides was the Dodgem.

This could be called an Italian driving school. We thought of it this way in admiration, not derogation.

A run-of-mine driver from the United States would not survive a day in big-city traffic in Italy. He wouldn't know how to dodge.

If driving an American-size car, he would not survive an hour. He would get hung up on a tight turn at the end of a narrow street, if he had not already run over a pedestrian or crushed a Fiat.

Italians are skilled in the art of defensive driving, which only recently has begun to make an impact on the thinking of safety experts in the United States.

They watch out for the other fellow.

They are scrupulously careful about pedestrians. In big cities like Milan, with 850,000 cars for 1,600,000 residents, they say the pedestrian is king.

What looks like an invitation to sudden death, when a pedestrian steps off the curb and holds up his hand, is in reality a formula for pedestrian survival.

Drivers actually stop for pedestrians.

There are relatively few traffic lights but many intersections where traffic is kept flowing with four-way stop and yield signs. This makes respect for pedestrian rights mandatory — and what a thrill it is for an outsider to stop a line of traffic by holding up his hand and starting across the street.

Modern Italy is the result of the Italian Fiat, a remarkable line of autos that come in all sizes from ultra-small to a model comparable to the compacts Detroit was making a few years ago.

Fiats are ubiquitous. They are easy on cost. They perform well. They are nimble. They are designed for the kind of driving Italians do — narrow city streets, hairpin turns on mountain roads, congested traffic on main thoroughfares.

The Fiat we drove from Naples to Palermo was easy-riding and easy-driving. It was a gasoline miser and an effortless shifter.

Italy has all makes of European cars but only rarely a U. S.-made car, for an obvious reason; it would be a monstrosity in a country whose city streets often are so narrow there is room for only one lane of traffic with cars parked halfway on the sidewalk on only one side of the street.

Circumstances have created a kind of driving that works well — the Dodgem technique, which looks like chaos at first sight. But when you watch it over a period of time; especially from a vantage point high in the air as we did while waiting Christmas dinner in Naples atop the Mediterraneo Hotel, it's as logical as the movement of iron filings in a magnetic field.

Everybody gets where he wants to go with a minimum of wasted motion.

When traffic jams develop, as they inevitably do, everybody takes them good naturedly. Nobody gets sore.

The suggestion will offend traffic know-it-alls, but it might be a good idea to send them to places like Rome, Milan and, oh yes, Venice, to see how other people handle traffic.

There are no autos in Venice, of course. If you don't like to ride aquatic street cars, you walk. It's restful, which is how Venice aims to be.

The Human Engineer

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

There is a new science in this country which is called "Human engineering." The object of human engineering, as I understand it, is to fit human beings into inhuman conditions.

Art Buchwald

I made this discovery while riding on an airplane from New York to Washington the other day. Seated next to me was a man who was taking very careful measurement of the space between us and then writting it in a notebook.

I asked him what he was doing and he said he was a human engineer and it was his job to see how many people he could squeeze on an airplane without doing permanent bodily harm to the passengers.

"We used to have five seats across," he said proudly, "but we've managed to put another seat in each row and you can see we can now get six people across."

"How on earth did you do it?" I asked him.

"W ceut the center aisle in half. The passengers have to walk sideways but just think of what the extra seats mean to the company's payload."

"Which of course, is all that you're worried about."

"YOU CAN BET your sweet whistle on that," he said. "I'm very concerned though that there still seems to be room between your knees and the seat in front of you."

"Only about two inches." I said.

"Well, if you take two inches away here and two inches away there, you can put another row of seats on the plane."

"Then my knees should be flush against the seat ahead?"

"Naturally, my dear boy. You can't expect leg room on such a short hop. One more thing. I was wondering how you feel about a reclining seat as opposed to a stationary one?"

"I prefer a reclining seat. It gives me a chance to rest a little."

He started writing in his book, "Customer too tempted by reclining chair, so I strongly recommend stationary kind which will allow us two more rows in back.

He looked at me "You came on board with a package. What did you do with it?"

"I put it under my seat."

He wrote again, "Customer can still get package under seat which means we're wasting valuable space which could better be used for air freight."

"You people really think of everything," I said.

"WE TRY TO," he replied, "but it's a struggle. There are a lot of people in the aviation business who are behind the times and we have to show them that their best interests lie not with the passengers but with the stockholders. I'm having a devil of a time trying to get the company to remove the arm rests."

"You want to do away with the arm rests?"

"Of course. If you did away wih the arm rests everyone would be forced to sit closer together and we could get eight people in a row."

"Say, have you ever though of putting people in the baggage rack overhead?" I ask him.

He studied it for a few minites. "It could be done if we could fit them in horizontally." He made another note. "Check about stuffing people into overhead baggage rack."

"You covered all the bases," I said in admiration.

"Not quite," he said, staring at the washrooms.

Four Points

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

For months there have been hints — or they could be so interpreted — that the North Vietnamese Communists might be softening conditions under which they might talk peace with the United states.

There is a vast distinction between agreeing to peace talks and a final agreement on peace. There has been no visible change at all on the conditions for peace laid down by the North Vietnamese long ago.

They put forth four points and have not departed from them. So any hints of a willingness to start talking peace — even if such talks began — is a long way from a final settlement.

But the Johnson administration has been anxious to get the talks started, at least, since they would have to be a necessary preliminary to any settlement anyway.

LAST FALL, for instance, the administration proposed peace negotiations, only to see the gesture spurned by the Reds. Nevertheless, it was in the very process of spurning that some observers felt they saw less rigidity by Hanoi.

Now, according to the New York Times, Premier Phan Van Dong of North Vietnam says his government's four-point demands are not necessarily conditions for peace talks, but rather a "basis for settlement of the Vietnam problem."

FBI Gives Report

450 Convicted In 1966 On Draft Law Violations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI reported today its investigations led to conviction last year of 450 persons accused of violating military draft laws — almost double the 262 convicted in 1965.

The greatest number of convictions in any previous year for which records were immediately available was in 1954 when 434 were found guilty. But this figure is for a fiscal year — July through the following June — and the 450 figure is for calendar 1966 — January through December.

In the FBI's annual yearend report to the attorney general, Director J. Edgar Hoover traced the increase in the number of draft law violations to the nation's larger military commitment.

Other figures from the Justice Department showed that the number of draft law violations had remained relatively steady since 1962. In that year there were 234 convictions. In 1963 there were 251 and in 1964 there were 227.

An official said the big increase in 1966 was due partly to larger draft calls and partly to strengthening of draft laws. This included a 1965 law that made destruction or mutiliation of a registration card a crime.

The FBI did not have figures showing the number of investigations it had made into alleged draft law violations. A spokesman said hundreds of investigations were handled locally by the FBI's 57 field offices and much of the material never reached the bureau's Washington headquarters.

Hoover said the FBI, in investigating Selective Service Act violations had "encountered virtually every type of draft dodging."

Hoover devoted 6 of his statement's 19 pages to the Communist party in this country.

He dealt with last year's anti-war demonstrations in a section of the report titled "Communist Party, USA — Front Activities." But he did not call the demonstrations Communist-inspired.

Hoover said "the moving forces behind these demonstrations are pacifist, student and ad hoc 'stop the war' groups.

"The Communist party and other subversive groups and their members continued to actively support and participate in the demonstrations throughout the country," he said.

In a section titled "Communist Influence in Racial Matters," Hoover said the "civil rights movement during the past year has undergone a sharp division among its leaders as to objectives to be attained and, more specifically, the means by which these objectives would be reached.

He said "several of the more militant Negro leaders have begun to espouse a line of black power. Some of these have openly advocated violence as a means of attaining their objectives."

The report said Communists "recognized the opportunities inherent in this situation and are always looking for political, social and economic inequities to propagandize and use as the basis for creating disorder in our society."

Vietnam

The figures the week before were 203 killed and 37 missing.

Enemy casualties also were less. U.S. headquarters said 882 Communists were killed and 133 captured last week, compared with 1,004 killed and 175 captured the week before.

The two Navy planes lost Wednesday were an A4 Skyhawk and an F4 Phantom, a U.S. spokesman said. He reported enemy ground fire brought them down just off the North Vietnamese coast 50 and 40 miles south of the port of Haiphong.

He said the pilot of the Skyhawk and the two crewmen of the Phantom all were rescued by the same helicopter from the carrier Bennington.

This raised to 453 the total of American planes reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam. Hanoi claimed three U. S. planes were shot down Wednesday, but U.S. officials said this was not true.

U.S. Navy, Air Force and Marine planes flew 116 strike missions over North Vietnam Wednesday — one of the highest totals in the last few weeks of bad weather. Of these, Navy pilots from the carriers Coral Sea, Ticonderoga and Enterprise flew 68 missions.

In air action over South Vietnam U.S. pilots flee 301 sorties Wednesday while South Vietnamese pilots added an additional 65 strike sorties.

Also over South Vietnam, B52 bombers struck early today at a suspected Communist troop concentration 60 miles south of Da Nang.

On the ground, U.S. headquarters reported 15 Communist soldiers were killed in three scattered actions Wednesday and 13 more were captured. The South Vietnamese command reported 33 of the enemy killed in five small encounters.

U.S. headquarters reported American troop strength in South Vietnam rose to 389,000 as the year ended last Saturday. This represented an increase of 13,000 last week.

Much of the troop increase was due to the arrival of large numbers of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division, a spokesman said.

Terrorism continued in Saigon, as it has all week. Two Vietnamese on a motorbike threw a grenade into a U. S. Army jeep near Tan Son Nhut Airbase. Two U.S. soldiers in the jeep jumped out, and the empty jeep rolled on some distance before the grenade exploded.

The soldiers escaped injury from the grenade but were hurt in the jump from the moving jeep, the spokesman said.

88 At Institute For Soil, Crops

SALEM — Eighty - eight attended the annual Columbiana-Mahoning Soil and Crops Institute here Wednesday in the Christian Church.

Speakers for the morning and afternoon sessions were Dr. Ed Stroube, agronomist at Ohio State University, and Dr. Harry Neimczyk and Dr. J. B. Polivka, entomologists at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster.

Topics discussed included herbicides for meadows and small grains seeded to meadows, control of alfalfa and Clover leaf weevil, corn rootworm and its effect on silk and roots and the cereal leaf beetle quarantine.

Earthquake Jars Mongolia; None Reported Dead

MOSCOW (AP)—A powerful earthquake rocked central Mongolia today, but the Mongolian news agency Montsame said there were no deaths. The quake hit hardest in a sparsely populated area of cattle and wheat farms.

Montsame said the quake had a force of 9 on a 12-point scale and the epicenter was near the Hangyan Mountains around the junction of the Eglin and Selenge Rivers.

The Mongolian Academy of Sciences said the first and strongest shock was registered at 8.14 a.m. (7:14 p.m. EST Wednesday).

"Small fissures have appeared in the area of the epicenter," Montsame said. "No human life was lost."

Tremors of 5 to 6 strength were reported in Ulan Bator, the Mongolian capital, and in the Soviet city of Irkutsk, but no damage was reported in either city.

On the other side of the Soviet bloc, in Poland, an earth upheaval in the chief Polish coal mining area broke the rail line between Turoszow and Bogatynia Wednesday. The Polish Press Agency said the earth rose about 17 feet over a 110-yard stretch and was still rising today.

Most of the rivers of Siberia flow northward into the Arctic Ocean.

Powell

New York State and I have not exhausted all remedies available to me."

Powell made no reference to criticism of his conduct as chairman by the House Administration Committee which this week fired his wife as a $20,578-a-year member of his office staff and disclosed nearly all her paychecks were deposited to his own account.

Without naming anyone, Powell hinted that other congressmen have violated the laws governing conflicts of interest, used their position to get federal contracts for corporations represented by their law firms, and even "bilked the United States government out of $1 million by selling it inferior merchandise which affects the conduct of the war in Vietnam."

Powell said he had been subjected "to one of the most abusive cases of trial and conviction by editorials in the history of this country."

He noted that last November the voters in his Harlem district elected him to a 12th term in the House by a 74.1 per cent majority.

"The voters were fully aware of the circumstances in my personal life when they cast their votes," he said. "This vote of confidence by my 431,330 constituents is, by definition, a vote of confidence in my seniority, my legislative record, and my unchallengeable right to be chairman of the Education and Labor Committee.

"This vote of confidence is determinedly shared by the vast majority of Negroes in America."

Art Schreiber To Speak For Kiwanis Installation

Art Schreiber, former East Liverpool resident and chief of the Washington News Bureau of the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. will be guest speaker at the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club installation dinner next Wednesday night.

Schreiber, son of Mrs. Nora Schreiber of 900 St. Clair Ave. and the late Rev. V. A. Schreiber, is a 1945 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

He will speak at the club's installation dinner at the Country Club and also to students at East Liverpool High School Wednesday afternoon.

As head of the capitol news bureau, he oversees the national and international news - gathering organization of Group W, which includes news centers in major American cities, Canada and Europe and correspondents elsewhere.

Schreiber's news career over the span of 15 years includes assignments as news director at KYW, the Group W station then in Cleveland, and as a news reporter and director with radio stations in Ohio. Before being named to his present post, he was news director of WCFL, Chicago.

While at KYW during 1964, Schreiber covered many national news stories: the national convention and election, the manned space flights, President Kennedy's funeral and the major civil rights news emanating from the South.

Born in Canton, Ohio, he is a graduate of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa. While doing graduate work in clinical psychology at Kent State University, he began his broadcasting career here at WOHI.

ART SCHREIBER
Speaker For Kiwanians.

He moved to Zanesville in 1953 as news director of WHIZ and in 1959, joined the news staff of WERE, Cleveland, where his assignments included the 1960 national conventions and presidential campaign.

His six years in Cleveland at WERE and KYW were cited with awards for best news operation for the production of special operations and documentary shows.

During his years as an Ohio news broadcaster, Schreiber was also a member of the faculty of Muskingum College of New Concord, specializing in radio operations and production.

Schreiber and his wife have two children, Amy Jo, 9, and Mark, 6.

Radioactive Fallout Highest Since 1962

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Radioactive fallout in California this week has been the highest since 1962, reports State Health Director Lester Breslow.

Dr. Breslow said the fallout resulted "apparently from the Dec. 28 Chinese detonation of a nuclear device."

The higher level "does not now indicate a hazard to health," Breslow said.

Curb Meters Show $5,256 Revenue Gain

East Liverpool's on - street parking meters brought in $60,609.73 during 1966, an increase of $5,256.36 from the $55,353.37 shown in 1965, City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger said today.

Overall meter revenue hit $81,907.18, including the $21,297.45 produced by the municipally - operated off-street parking lots, the auditor pointed out. The overall revenue is up $13,843.38 from the $68,063.80 listed for 1965. The off-street lots brought in $12,710.43 during 1965.

The establishment of two new off-street sites helped account for the $8,587 boost in income from the city's lots. The new sites are the so-called Ceramic Annex lot, which lies between E. 4th and E. 3rd Sts., and another lot on W. 5th St. near Jackson Sts.

Zollinger commented that the purchase of 503 new on - street meters in 1966 apparently was the major factor in boosting the revenue.

He pointed out that the on-street meters brought in only $24,086.38 in the first half of 1966, when 19-year-old meters were in operation. Generally speaking, the new meters went into operation July 1. The revenue for the last half of 1966 jumped to $36,048.35.

Using the so-called "excess revenue" plan, the city paid off $7,189.09 on the cost of the new meters in the five months from August to December. The distributor was paid an amount equivalent to the gain in on-street revenue each month, compared with the same month in the preceding year.

The city contracted to pay a total of $25,701.50 for the 503 new meters. The balance due the distributor is $18,512.41. The city will continue to pay the bill monthly under the so - called "excess revenue" plan.

Records are kept separately on the on-street operation and the city's lots because income from the off-street operation is used to pay off the cost of the property and the expense of converting it to parking.

Got Bad Food As Prisoners

Two American Civilians Not Mistreated By Cong

LONG BINH, South Vietnam (AP) — Two American civilians said today that during seven months as prisoners of the Viet Cong they got bad food but were not mistreated, sang songs for the Communists, were given a Christmas party and were almost killed by an American air raid.

"The Viet Cong were impressed by our cheerful attitude," said Thomas R. Scales, 44, of Matamoras, Pa. "We sang and whistled all the time. They asked us to sing and we sang 'Jingle Bells' and 'My Wild Irish Rose.' We're both lousy singers, but the Viet Cong seemed to like it."

Scales and Robert W. Monahan, 41, of Bellport, Long Island, were captured May 27 on a road near Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, where they were employed as supervisors for Pacific Architects and Engineers, an American firm working in South Vietnam under military contract.

They appeared before a large group of newsmen at a U. S. hospital to which they were brought following their release Wednesday near Xuan Loc, 40 miles northeast of Saigon.

Since their capture May 28, Scales had lost 55 pounds and now weighs 122. Monahan lost 75 pounds and now weighs 141. But except for malnutrition, they were pronounced in fair condition by Army doctors.

Wearing blue Army hospital pajamas, the pair said the Viet Cong told them they were released because they finally had shown repentance.

"We don't know what we repented for," said Scales. "They told us if we didn't repent we would spend five years in prison."

Scales, who is married and has one child, told of their capture. He said their vehicle broke down about 4 p.m. and they were suddenly "surrounded by about 10 Viet Cong armed with pistols, rifles and grease guns (a light automatic weapon)."

Scales said one of the Communists held a pistol to his forehead and another held a gun at the back of Monahan's head. He said they were blindfolded and bound and taken to the first of several different prisoner camps.

"For the first 14 days," Scales said, "we were tied with cables around our feet. But after that we were not bound or handcuffed. We were constantly guarded by at least two armed guards."

Scales related that at one camp they were caught in a U.S. air strike. They threw themselves on the ground, he said, but their guards made them get up and run in bare feet to an air raid shelter.

"The shelter was a hole in the ground covered with timbers," Scales said.

Scales said the ground around them shook and they thought they would be killed in the air raid.

$23,823 Gain Shown In City Tax Receipts

East Liverpool's municipal income tax produced $346,061.10 during 1966, an increase of $23,823 from the $322,238.64 shown in 1965.

The comparative revenue figures were reported to City Council Tuesday night in the annual report of D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner.

Wilkinson said the 1966 revenue was comprised of $192,507.70 withheld from payrolls by employers, $51,782.56 paid by business and industry and $101,770.84 paid through individual returns.

The 1965 receipts were made up of $179,222.74 from withholding, $45,060.24 from business and industry and $97,955.66 from individual returns, his report showed.

East Liverpool's tax is eight-tenths of 1 per cent, equivalent to 80 cents on each $100 of earned income or business profit.

Wilkinson also reported that the overall expense of operating the tax office during 1966 was $22,789.13, equivalent to 6.55 per cent of the gross receipts.

The outlay included $17,844.86 for salaries; $1,799.49 for printing of forms and supplies; $1,138.55 for incidentals; $834.61 for refunds, and $1,071.62 for postage.

Refunds are made when a taxpayer estimates his income in advance and makes quarterly payments, then finds that his gross earnings fell short of the estimate. The refunds are made to cover overpayments on the part of individual taxpayers.

Our word "vaccination" comes from the Latin "vacca," which means "cow."

'We Don't Call,' Army Reminds In Death Of Soldier

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The information office at Ft. Hayes today re-emphasized the Army's procedures used in notifying next-of-kin of service casualties of soldiers serving in Vietnam.

The Department of the Army never sends such notices by telephone, it was pointed out.

In recent weeks military authorities at Ft. Hayes have been informed of several false calls to dependent wives and relatives that have resulted in cruel hoaxes.

The official notification that an Army member is dead or missing in action always reaches the primary next-of-kin by means of a personal visit by an officer or senior non-commissioned officer, who is prepared to present proof of his identity if asked. This first in-person notification is followed shortly thereafter by a telegram from the adjutant general, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C., verifying the information.

An initial notification of a serious wound or illness is normally delivered to the next-of-kin by telegram. As in the case of notice of death or missing in action, the Department of the Army never sends such notices by telephone.

Brian Makes New Plea For March Of Dimes

"The March of Dimes is fighting birth defects because each year these tragic conditions rob more than a quarter - million American children of their birthright — to enter the world healthy and grow normally."

Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool made this statement today as he accepted the chairmanship of the 1967 Columbiana County March of Dimes campaign.

"I think most of us would consider it alarming if we heard about an epidemic in which a new case struck every other minute, which was the second greatest destroyer of life, and which caused half of all cases of mental retardation.

"Yet, birth defects are responsible for all this, and for much more human damage. Many defects are not apparent at birth. They appear later in life, causing physical or mental disability.

"The March of Dimes is making important progress in birth defects, but we need increased public support to continue and to expand these programs."

Brian noted the growing number of "Dimes"-supported centers where birth defect children receive superior treatment from teams of trained medical professionals. There are now 77 of these centers in operation.

In research, scientists supported by "Dimes" grants have developed ways of detecting several defects of body chemistry that can cause mental retardation and are studying the hereditary and environmental factors which affect a baby's development before birth.

"In addition," said Brian, "the March of Dimes is conducting a national educational program to inform every expectant mother of the importance of pre - natal care in minimizing risks to the newborn child."

Wife Strangled And Stabbed As Children Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 22-year-old Cleveland housewife was strangled with an undergarment and stabbed with a butcher knife Wednesday in her home, apparently while her children played in another room.

Police said the nude body of Mrs. Bernice M. Thompson was found in the bathroom. Her children, David, 1, and Donna, 3, were beside the body, trying to awaken their mother.

Three men have been taken into custody for questioning, police said.

The body was found by Mrs. Thompson's 9-year-old brother, Vernon L. Maynard, who had gone to the home after school for help with his homework.

Mrs. Thompson's husband, Charles, 21, is a machine tool operator.

Castro Claims Plot Foiled To Smuggle 20

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced Wednesday night it had broken up a plot to smuggle 20 Cubans to Miami by capturing four "infiltrators from Florida" and killing a fifth who resisted arrest.

An Interior Ministry communique said the group's leader was Enrique Gonzalez Rodriguez, captain of a boat that sank with 44 Cuban refugees on an illegal crossing to Florida last September during Hurricane Inez. Gonzalez, a Cuban exile from Miami, was the only survivor then.

The communique said Gonzalez and a member of his group, Francisco Cordoba, admitted they were agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. It said equipment was seized that proved CIA involvement in the plot, including a rubber raft, radio, arms and ammunition.

The ministry said Gonzalez also admitted that he had operated prowler boats for U.S. intelligence officials on previous missions to Cuba.

The four were captured near Remedios, in Las Villas Province on the northern coast, "while Cubans were celebrating the year-end fiestas," the communique said. It did not specify a date.

Families Forced To Dig Graves In New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Several families dug graves for their dead Wednesday at Jewish cemeteries because of a strike of 1,700 union gravediggers. Jews customarily bury their dead within 24 hours.

Five families dug graves at Beth David Cemetery in Elmont, Long Island. Each family had to pay a $10 deposit for two shovels and a pick, but the money was refunded by the cemetery management when the tools were returned.

"We're not happy about it, they're not happy about it, but what can you do?" said Warren Rosen, office manager at Beth David.

The strike is in its third day today, and another round of bargaining sessions were on tap.

The gravediggers struck 39 Jewish, Catholic and nonsectarian cemeteries in a demand for higher wages.

Bodies were placed in vaults at the 14 nonsectarian and 12 Catholic cemeteries to await burial.

Most graves are dug with gravedigging machines, except in older cemeteries where the headstones are close together and the digging has to be done with pick and shovel.

Newell Motorist Given Jail Term

Edward C. Brown, 42, of 417 Harrison St., Newell, was sentenced to three days in jail and fined $250 and costs Wednesday in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Brown pleaded "no contest" on the charge filed by police after his auto was involved in a collision with an East End woman's car yesterday at 1:08 a.m. on Jackson St. at W. 6th St. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said he will send Brown's driver's license to West Virginia authorities in Charleston with a recommendation that it be suspended.

Meanwhile, John K. Brown, 19, of 426 Sugar St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of improper backing. He was cited by police after a minor traffic mishap Tuesday at 3:59 p. m. on Washington St.

Ex-Mayor Sentenced For Embezzlement

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has sentenced former Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan to one to 10 years in prison for embezzling $97,000 from a widow's estate.

Judge Redmond Staats Wednesday rejected a plea for probation, and told Houlihan, 56: "This has been a violation of trust and confidence extending over many years. If I gave you county jail and restitution, it would probably be more burdensome on you. Probation would be too burdensome, not only for the defendant but for the courts and probation officers."

Juror's Dismissed, Sister Is Defendant

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Harris was dismissed as a prospective juror Wednesday in a common pleas court trial.

The reason: His sister, Ruth Harris, 39, is the defendant. She is being tried on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and wound.

Firemen Hold Installation

Officers were installed during the meeting of the LaCroft volunteer fire department Tuesday night at the station.

Homer Cronin is president, Fred Fryman secretary, Chalmer Gifford treasurer and Leonard Brewer three-year trustee.

Castro Claims Plot Foiled To Smuggle 20

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced Wednesday night it had broken up a plot to smuggle 20 Cubans to Miami by capturing four "infiltrators from Florida" and killing a fifth who resisted arrest.

An Interior Ministry communique said the group's leader was Enrique Gonzalez Rodriguez, captain of a boat that sank with 44 Cuban refugees on an illegal crossing to Florida last September during Hurricane Inez. Gonzalez, a Cuban exile from Miami, was the only survivor then.

The communique said Gonzalez and a member of his group, Francisco Cordoba, admitted they were agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. It said equipment was seized that proved CIA involvement in the plot, including a rubber raft, radio, arms and ammunition.

The ministry said Gonzalez also admitted that he had operated prowler boats for U.S. intelligence officials on previous missions to Cuba.

The four were captured near Remedios, in Las Villas Province on the northern coast, "while Cubans were celebrating the year-end fiestas," the communique said. It did not specify a date.

Families Forced To Dig Graves In New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Several families dug graves for their dead Wednesday at Jewish cemeteries because of a strike of 1,700 union gravediggers. Jews customarily bury their dead within 24 hours.

Five families dug graves at Beth David Cemetery in Elmont, Long Island. Each family had to pay a $10 deposit for two shovels and a pick, but the money was refunded by the cemetery management when the tools were returned.

"We're not happy about it, they're not happy about it, but what can you do?" said Warren Rosen, office manager at Beth David.

The strike is in its third day today, and another round of bargaining sessions were on tap.

The gravediggers struck 39 Jewish, Catholic and nonsectarian cemeteries in a demand for higher wages.

Bodies were placed in vaults at the 14 nonsectarian and 12 Catholic cemeteries to await burial.

Most graves are dug with gravedigging machines, except in older cemeteries where the headstones are close together and the digging has to be done with pick and shovel.

Newell Motorist Given Jail Term

Edward C. Brown, 42, of 417 Harrison St., Newell, was sentenced to three days in jail and fined $250 and costs Wednesday in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Brown pleaded "no contest" on the charge filed by police after his auto was involved in a collision with an East End woman's car yesterday at 1:08 a.m. on Jackson St. at W. 6th St. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said he will send Brown's driver's license to West Virginia authorities in Charleston with a recommendation that it be suspended.

Meanwhile, John K. Brown, 19, of 426 Sugar St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of improper backing. He was cited by police after a minor traffic mishap Tuesday at 3:59 p. m. on Washington St.

Ex-Mayor Sentenced For Embezzlement

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has sentenced former Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan to one to 10 years in prison for embezzling $97,000 from a widow's estate.

Judge Redmond Staats Wednesday rejected a plea for probation, and told Houlihan, 56: "This has been a violation of trust and confidence extending over many years. If I gave you county jail and restitution, it would probably be more burdensome on you. Probation would be too burdensome, not only for the defendant but for the courts and probation officers."

Juror's Dismissed, Sister Is Defendant

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Harris was dismissed as a prospective juror Wednesday in a common pleas court trial.

The reason: His sister, Ruth Harris, 39, is the defendant. She is being tried on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and wound.

Ohio Legislature Eyes More Secretarial, Research Help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Favorable winds already appear to be blowing in the brand new legislature for measures that would give the lawmakers more secretarial and research help.

The legislation is recommended today in a Legislative Service Commission report that grew out of interim hearings called for in a resolution passed by the last General Assembly.

Sponsors of the resolution pointed out then and reiterated during hearings that Ohio's lawmakers are forced to face space age problems in virtually the same atmosphere and with the same amount of help their forerunners had half a century ago.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, a sponsor of the resolution, expressed confidence the legislature which convened last Monday will enact into law recommendations for more clerical and research help which he called "our most pressing problems right now."

Carney commented on the report before the lawmakers ended their first week of work. Both houses return to the Statehouse Monday night for completion of organizational matters which will clear the way for the first bill introductions.

Major item of business in the upper chamber Wednesday was completion of committee assignments which Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R - Miami, said may lead to hearings on bills before the end of next week.

The House received—before it took weekend adjournment — a a record $25 million public school deficiency bill.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, attributed the deficiency to a change in enrollment estimate procedures, increased bus transportation costs, and purchase of new school buses. He termed the school deficit the largest in state history but he said only about 10 per cent of the deficit resulted from bus transportation of private and parochial pupils provided by the state this year for the first time.

Ohio Man, 24, Is Charged With Slaying Waitress

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —The body of a young part-time waitress who had been stabbed to death was found early today in the bedroom of her apartment here.

Police arrested Richard L. K. Tucker, 24, of Cincinnati, and charged him with murder.

The victim, Ruth Marie Fliehman, about 20, lived in an apartment on the second floor of a converted frame residence just east of the downtown district and about a block from Marshall University.

Police said the girl had been employed at the Peoples Co., a manufacturer of canvas products here, and worked part-time as a waitress at a drive-in a few blocks from where she lived. She had worked two hours at the drive-in Wednesday night.

Tucker, an oil company salesman, was arrested at his motel room. He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Alvie Qualls Friday morning.

The 16th amendment to the Constitution gives Congress the power to collect taxes on income.

Conservation Scholarship To Be Offered

LISBON — A $500 college scholarship is the first prize in a statewide conservation project award program for students in grades 9-12.

The Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Federal Land Bank Association of Ohio are the sponsors.

The runnerup will receive a $250 college scholarship and a $50 Savings Bond will be awarded each of the 12 area winners. County winners and second-place finishers in each county will receive plaques.

The Columbiana SWCD at Lisbon has forwarded contest rules to all high schools in the county. Projects must apply to the conservation of natural resources. They may not exceed 48 inches in length and 30 inches in depth, with height in proportion.

Students may enter the contest through a youth organization, on an individual basis, or through their high school. Those interested may get details from their science teacher or at the SWCD office, 41 N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Sheriff, Deputy Head South To Return Suspect

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan and Deputy Howard Gray are en route to Mobile, Ala., to return a man charged with a $300 armed robbery New Year's eve at a Glenmoor residence.

They are making the trip in the sheriff's new cruiser — a Buick sedan delivered Wednesday afternoon an hour or so before they left.

They said Donald James Hoyt, 23, of the Echo Dell Trailer Court in St. Clair Township said he will waive extradition proceedings and return to Columbiana County voluntarily.

Hoyt is charged with robbing Mrs. W. K. Hoge about 11:50 Saturday in her bedroom.

Her discription of the bandit was the only clue officers had. Twenty - four hours later, they went to the trailer court to talk to Hoyt, only to find he had disappeared. The sheriff issued a warrant and Mobile authorities apprehended Hoyt Tuesday. "The pieces just fell together," Gray said.

Incinerator's Smoke Results In Fire Call

A passerby saw smoke from an incinerator and believed the office of Dr. Alex Fisher at 321 W. 5th St. was on fire Wednesday at 6:11 p. m., according to city firemen, who were summoned.

Firemen were called to the home of Donald Hunsberger of 1312 Smithfield St. at 5:22 p. m. when the control panel on an electric kitchen range developed a short circuit and burned. It was out on arrival. The Northside Station answered the alarm.

Speeches were given by Harold Sneddon and Vince Maola. The bull-thrower award was received by Sneddon.

LISBON — Columbiana County's 121st annual fair made a little money contrary to the annual financial statement published here Wednesday.

Mrs. Velma Cope, secretary, said there is a $1,032.12 deficit on paper because a county aid check of $2,000 was received too late to include in the statement covering the period Dec. 1, 1965, to Nov. 30, 1966.

She said the $2,000 and some money still due from concessionaires will be included in the statement for the 1967 fair.

Receipts totaled $55,197.38 and expenditures $54,165.26. Fair directors began the year with a $2,894.37 balance and ended with a carryover of $1,862.25.

The largest disbursements were $13,230.14 for purses in the horse races and $5,710.35 for special attractions. Other expenditures were:

Salaries, $1,550; payroll, $5,339.37; judges, $453; members' expenses, $1,698.22; utilities, $493.19; office expense, $366.64; federal taxes, $1.53; interest on loan, $160; insurance, $589.29; dues, $50; advertising, $939.47.

Ohio Legislature Eyes More Secretarial, Research Help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Favorable winds already appear to be blowing in the brand new legislature for measures that would give the lawmakers more secretarial and research help.

The legislation is recommended today in a Legislative Service Commission report that grew out of interim hearings called for in a resolution passed by the last General Assembly.

Sponsors of the resolution pointed out then and reiterated during hearings that Ohio's lawmakers are forced to face space age problems in virtually the same atmosphere and with the same amount of help their forerunners had half a century ago.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, a sponsor of the resolution, expressed confidence the legislature which convened last Monday will enact into law recommendations for more clerical and research help which he called "our most pressing problems right now."

Carney commented on the report before the lawmakers ended their first week of work. Both houses return to the Statehouse Monday night for completion of organizational matters which will clear the way for the first bill introductions.

Major item of business in the upper chamber Wednesday was completion of committee assignments which Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R - Miami, said may lead to hearings on bills before the end of next week.

The House received—before it took weekend adjournment — a a record $25 million public school deficiency bill.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, attributed the deficiency to a change in enrollment estimate procedures, increased bus transportation costs, and purchase of new school buses. He termed the school deficit the largest in state history but he said only about 10 per cent of the deficit resulted from bus transportation of private and parochial pupils provided by the state this year for the first time.

Ohio Man, 24, Is Charged With Slaying Waitress

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —The body of a young part-time waitress who had been stabbed to death was found early today in the bedroom of her apartment here.

Police arrested Richard L. K. Tucker, 24, of Cincinnati, and charged him with murder.

The victim, Ruth Marie Flichman, about 20, lived in an apartment on the second floor of a converted frame residence just east of the downtown district and about a block from Marshall University.

Police said the girl had been employed at the Peoples Co., a manufacturer of canvas products here, and worked part-time as a waitress at a drive-in a few blocks from where she lived. She had worked two hours at the drive-in Wednesday night.

Tucker, an oil company salesman, was arrested at his motel room. He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Alvie Qualls Friday morning.

The 16th amendment to the Constitution gives Congress the power to collect taxes on income.

Conservation Scholarship To Be Offered

LISBON — A $500 college scholarship is the first prize in a statewide conservation project award program for students in grades 9-12.

The Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Federal Land Bank Association of Ohio are the sponsors.

The runnerup will receive a $250 college scholarship and a $50 Savings Bond will be awarded each of the 12 area winners. County winners and second-place finishers in each county will receive plaques.

The Columbiana SWCD at Lisbon has forwarded contest rules to all high schools in the county. Projects must apply to the conservation of natural resources. They may not exceed 48 inches in length and 30 inches in depth, with height in proportion.

Students may enter the contest through a youth organization, on an individual basis, or through their high school. Those interested may get details from their science teacher or at the SWCD office, 41 N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Sheriff, Deputy Head South To Return Suspect

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan and Deputy Howard Gray are en route to Mobile, Ala., to return a man charged with a $300 armed robbery New Year's eve at a Glenmoor residence.

They are making the trip in the sheriff's new cruiser — a Buick sedan delivered Wednesday afternoon an hour or so before they left.

They said Donald James Hoyt, 23, of the Echo Dell Trailer Court in St. Clair Township said he will waive extradition proceedings and return to Columbiana County voluntarily.

Hoyt is charged with robbing Mrs. W. K. Hoge about 11:50 Saturday in her bedroom.

Her discription of the bandit was the only clue officers had. Twenty - four hours later, they went to the trailer court to talk to Hoyt, only to find he had disappeared. The sheriff issued a warrant and Mobile authorities apprehended Hoyt Tuesday. "The pieces just fell together," Gray said.

Firemen were called to the home of Donald Hunsberger of 1312 Smithfield St. at 5:22 p. m. when the control panel on an electric kitchen range developed a short circuit and burned. It was out on arrival. The Northside Station answered the alarm.

Mrs. Burke and Brennan told police the bandits forced them to drive about two miles after getting in their car at an intersection about one half mile from the sales office.

State police found the station wagon on a rural road about a half mile from where Mrs. Burke and Brennan were released unharmed.

Brennan, who estimated the size of the theft, said, "we feel we were pretty well staked out. They knew just what to expect from us."

Cites Expense Of 2 Elections

Sen. Devlin Questions GOP Plan On Convention

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Minority Leader John H. Devlin said today that the legislature has the power to call a constitutional convention and that there is where the action should begin.

"Why subject the people to the expense of two elections?" Devlin, D - Allegheny, asked.

He was referring to the Republican proposal for a constitutional convention which would have the people vote upon the question of having a convention.

After the convention conducts its business, the results would be considered by the voters in a later election.

Under the proposal introduced Wednesday by Senate Democrats, the legislature would call the convention into being. Its results would be considered later by the voters.

Devlin also questioned the legality of imposing restrictions on a convention as the Republican proposal, backed by Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer, would.

"It has never been decided if you can limit a constitutional convention," Devlin said.

Thus, the two-day-old 1967 legislature already is faced with a lively issue in the form of a proposed constitutional convention.

The House and Senate, both Republican - controlled, met Tuesday and Wednesday before adjourning for a week. They will return the week of Jan. 16; Inauguration Week.

Shafer, who assumes office Jan. 17, frequently has looked upon constitutional revision as one of the main projects for his forthcoming administration.

With his backing, a nine-bill constitutional reform package was introduced Tuesday in the Senate.

One measure, if passed by the legislature, would have a 107-delegate constitutional convention sit in June and complete its work by September.

Under the Democratic proposal, the legislature would order a 106-member convention meet in January, 1968. Its work would not have to be finished until the following February.

Both the House versions of the constitution convention proposal are in Senate committee.

Cites Expense Of 2 Elections

Sen. Devlin Questions GOP Plan On Convention

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Minority Leader John H. Devlin said today that the legislature has the power to call a constitutional convention and that there is where the action should begin.

"Why subject the people to the expense of two elections?" Devlin, D - Allegheny, asked.

He was referring to the Republican proposal for a constitutional convention which would have the people vote upon the question of having a convention.

After the convention conducts its business, the results would be considered by the voters in a later election.

Under the proposal introduced Wednesday by Senate Democrats, the legislature would call the convention into being. Its results would be considered later by the voters.

Devlin also questioned the legality of imposing restrictions on a convention as the Republican proposal, backed by Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer, would.

"It has never been decided if you can limit a constitutional convention," Devlin said.

Thus, the two-day-old 1967 legislature already is faced with a lively issue in the form of a proposed constitutional convention.

The House and Senate, both Republican - controlled, met Tuesday and Wednesday before adjourning for a week. They will return the week of Jan. 16; Inauguration Week.

Shafer, who assumes office Jan. 17, frequently has looked upon constitutional revision as one of the main projects for his forthcoming administration.

With his backing, a nine-bill constitutional reform package was introduced Tuesday in the Senate.

One measure, if passed by the legislature, would have a 107-delegate constitutional convention sit in June and complete its work by September.

Under the Democratic proposal, the legislature would order a 106-member convention meet in January, 1968. Its work would not have to be finished until the following February.

Both the House versions of the constitution convention proposal are in Senate committee.

Mansfield Urges Military Wall Along Viet Borders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says a military wall along the northern and western borders of South Vietnam would reduce Communist infiltration more than continued bombing of North Vietnam.

Mansfield said in an interview that despite bombing of the North, he has been told that 7,500 North Vietnamese are now moving South each month compared to 1,500 a year ago.

The Pentagon reportedly has been studying creation of a defense barrier along the 17th Parallel, South Vietnam's northern boundary. There have been informal reports it would cost $4 billion.

Mansfield said this is only two months worth of present U.S. expenditures in Vietnam. He said such a barrier should be extended south along the borders with Laos and Cambodia.

Mansfield has opposed escalation of the war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it will not press the Supreme Court for a ruling upholding the non-Communist disclaimer provisions of the medicare law.

Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said Wednesday the court's decision last May striking down an Arizona loyalty oath requirement had foreclosed arguments that the medicare oath requirement is constitutional.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Democratic leader expects no sweeping new proposals from President Johnson's State of the Union message.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Wednesday that Johnson would limit his requests of the new Congress mostly to modifications and improvements of the "Great Society" program.

Police On Guard At Chapel Which Houses Ruby's Body

CHICAGO (AP) — Police maintained a vigil today at the chapel which houses the body of Jack Ruby, who killed the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Ruby, 55, died in a Dallas hospital Tuesday of a massive blood clot. Cancer was listed as a contributory cause of death.

Four policemen were stationed at the chapel Wednesday after the funeral home received many calls concerning Ruby. A police officer said that only one patrolman would continue the vigil today.

The operator of the chapel, Hershey Weinstein, told newsmen he recieved an anonymous call from a man who asked what security plans had been made.

Weinstein related that the man said, "You'd better get some security. There's liable to be trouble." The call came from Dallas he said.

Ruby was convicted of murder with malice and received the death sentence for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, whom the Warren commission named as the assassin of President Kennedy. The conviction was overruled by the Texas Court of Appeals and a new trial had been scheduled.

Ruby's body was returned by plane to his native Chicago Wednesday. The body was taken to the Original Weinstein and Son funeral chapel where it will remain until interment Friday.

The services will be restricted to members of the immediate family — three brothers and four sisters. Burial will take place in Westlawn Cemetery on the Northwest Side.

Ruby's brother, Earl, of Southfield, Mich., told newsmen that his brother suffered mental anguish at the thought that anyone believed his part in the Dallas tragedy resulted from a conspiracy to kill the president.

Earl said he brought a tape recorder to the hospital so the stricken Ruby could state publicly he had never known Oswald was not involved in any conspiracy.

The three - minute recording will be incorporated in a record entitled "The Controversy," which deals with the assassination.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What Do You Do For Exercise?

Muscular activity increases calorie burning more than any other single factor. If you have a favorite activity that affords exercise at each season, you're in clover. With regular exercise you can control your weight beautifully.

Ida Jean Kain

So many of you say, "I'll cut calories, but don't ask me to exercise!" That's all wrong. When you diet stringently but shun exercise you not only feel tired, but something dreary happens to your looks. Exercise is a beauty measure.

To tone up as you slim down, take some form of regular exercise. Walk two miles a day, swim three times a week, join a dance class or ease through calisthenics. Precision calisthenics definitely stop the sagging and slim off inches. Isometric contraction is a form of calisthenics in which you pit one set of muscles against another and hold the contraction to a slow count of six, or six seconds.

THE FOLLOWING isometric flattens the abdomen, trims the waist and straightens posture:

Position: Lie on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Have arms out at shoulder level, elbows bent, forearms back on floor — to square the shoulders.

Action: Pull up-and-in strongly with abdominal muscles, pressing small of back flat against floor. Hold the contraction for six to eight counts, breathing freely. Hold the muscle contraction, but do not hold breath. Repeat three times, later five, twice daily.

To pull off bulges, do a side-bend and hold.

Position: Standing, feet apart for balance. Arch arms overhead, clasp fingers. Pull up with middle muscles, pull in strongly to reach muscles which bound sides of silhouette. Action: Centering uplift through midsection, slowly bend sidewards as far as comfortable. At the end of the bend, h-o-l-d for six seconds. No movement. Come back to center, pull up and in again strongly, bend to opposite side. Hold. Repeat twice, each side. Later five times, twice daily.

AP Bid Has Been Futile For Right To Visit Hanoi

NEW YORK (AP) — The Associated Press has been trying to get permission for correspondents to visit North Vietnam over the past five years and has filed applications in Tokyo, Moscow, Prague, and Paris — and by cable to Hanoi.

Applications have been made by The Associated Press for correspondents of three nationalities.

Other news media have been making similar attempts.

Only Communist correspondents and a scattering from countries like France and Japan were admitted to Hanoi until recently.

Certain Westerners were admitted as private individuals or as representatives of pacifist organizations.

But U.S. writers had been effectively barred until Dec. 20 when Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of The New York Times, received a North Vietnamese visa in Paris, and proceeded to Hanoi.

About the same time, Louis Lomax, a West Coast television commentator and critic of U.S. Vietnam policy, received an invitation from the North Vietnamese Journalistic Association to visit the country for a week.

The Associated Press sought unsuccessfully in mid-December to send a correspondent with four American women who were going to Hanoi by way of Moscow.

When the Salisbury and Lomax developments became known, The Associated Press sent a cable to Ho Chi Minh again asking for admission of a correspondent who could view war damage and talk to officials there.

On Dec. 27, The Associated Press received a response from the "press bureau, president's office," saying: "Thanks for cable President Ho Chi Minh. In view bombing strafing Hanoi, it's not possible to his regret to comply with request."

The Associated Press cabled the press office for reconsideration, saying that visas had been granted to Salisbury and Lomax and The AP would appreciate similar courtesy.

There are two steps for an American to get permission to go legally to Hanoi. Since U.S. passports prohibit travel to Communist-controlled areas of Vietnam, the State Department must validate a passport to remove this provision. Then the American must pick up a North Vietnam visa — a permit for entry — at a North Vietnamese consulate in Europe or elsewhere.

First printing press on the North American continent was set up in Mexico City.

Ike Departs For Vacation In California

HARRISBURG (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, looking recovered from his recent gall bladder operation and looking forward to spending some time in the sun, left Wednesday night by train for his favorite winter vacation spot — Palm Desert, Calif.

The five - star general and his wife, Mamie, boarded a a private railroad car at the Pennsylvania Railroad Station after driving down from their farm home at nearby Gettysburg.

The Eisenhower car, which is donated each year by the president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, plus a pullman coach and a third car for staff members, were hooked up to the Broadway Limited.

The Eisenhowers are expected to arrive at Palm Desert, which is near Palm Springs, Saturday morning.

Brig. Gen. Robert Shultz, Eisenhower's aide, told newsmen that the former president, who last month spent 15 days in Walter Reed Army Hospital when his gall bladder was removed, was "feeling fine" and "looking forward to the sun."

Before the train left, Gov. Scranton entered the Eisenhower car for what he termed "a purely social visit."

'Magnificent Effort' Of Ohio Patrol Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Col. Robert M. Chiaramonte of the Ohio Highway Patrol today credited law enforcement officers with "magnificent effort" in holding the long New Year holiday accident and fatality rate well under the predicted toll of 33. The final count was 22 dead.

He noted officers made 5,051 traffic arrests during the holiday period. As might be reasonably expected on a weekend when good road and weather conditions existed, he said, the "speeder led the violation parade.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What Do You Do For Exercise?

Ida Jean Kain

Muscular activity increases calorie burning more than any other single factor. If you have a favorite activity that affords exercise at each season, you're in clover. With regular exercise you can control your weight beautifully.

So many of you say, "I'll cut calories, but don't ask me to exercise!" That's all wrong. When you diet stringently but shun exercise you not only feel tired, but something dreary happens to your looks. Exercise is a beauty measure.

To tone up as you slim down, take some form of regular exercise. Walk two miles a day, swim three times a week, join a dance class or ease through calisthenics. Precision calisthenics definitely stop the sagging and slim off inches. Isometric contraction is a form of calisthenics in which you pit one set of muscles against another and hold the contraction to a slow count of six, or six seconds.

THE FOLLOWING isometric flattens the abdomen, trims the waist and straightens posture:

Position: Lie on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Have arms out at shoulder level, elbows bent, forearms back on floor — to square the shoulders.

Action: Pull up-and-in strongly with abdominal muscles, pressing small of back flat aginst floor. Hold the contraction for six to eight counts, breathing freely. Hold the muscle contraction, but do not hold breath. Repeat three times, later five, twice daily.

To pull off bulges, do a side-bend and hold.

Position: Standing, feet apart for balance. Arch arms overhead, clasp fingers. Pull up with middle muscles, pull in strongly to reach muscles which bound sides of silhouette. Action: Centering uplift through midsection, slowly bend sidewards as far as comfortable. At the end of the bend, h-o-l-d for six seconds. No movement. Come back to center, pull up and in again strongly, bend to opposite side. Hold. Repeat twice, each side. Later five times, twice daily.

BACK PRECISION exercise with a brisk daily walk. In walking, you burn 85 to 100 calories per mile. Get the exercise habit. You'll find that something beautiful happens to your looks.

Breakfast, 265—335 Calories

Chilled fruit juice, ½ cup

Choice: Cereal, hot or cold, ¾ cup. Whole milk, ½ cup

Destruction Of Mailboxes Stirs Warning

Mailboxes are protected by federal law and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy them and their contents may face a heavy fine or imprisonment, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown warned again today.

The postmaster noted that some 25,000 receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year over the U.S., with 2,641 persons arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

Brown quoted from the law: "Whoever wilfully or maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letterbox or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or wilfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property, Brown emphasized.

"Pranksters — and especially children who do not know any better — should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions," the postmaster added. "A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank."

The local office has had many calls lately reporting damaged mailboxes. Most of them are in rural areas and must be reported to constables first, Brown pointed out.

"The post office then makes a record of the cases and the inspection service has leads in some of the cases. Those responsible can be assured they will be dealt with severely where the situation warrants," he concluded.

William Curry Named To Post At Globe Brick

William J. Curry Jr., a native of East Liverpool, has been elected vice president of the Sleeve and Nozzle Division of the Globe Brick Co., refractory manufacturer, near Newell.

According to William F. Porter, president of Globe, products to be produced by this division will provide the company with a complete line of pouring pit refractories.

"Mr. Curry, one of the most able and experienced men in the industry, will devote his full time to the development and marketing of sleeves, nozzles and pocket block," Porter said.

Curry was director of production and a board member of Hiram Swank's Sons at Johnstown, Pa., from 1950-1966. For a brief period prior to his present appointment, he was pouring pit refractories consultant with the H. K. Porter Co. and earlier in his career was associated with several other refractory producers in a management capacity.

After graduation from East Liverpol High School, Curry attended the University of Pittsburgh and Alfred University. He is a member of the American Ceramic Society and the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers.

WILLIAM J. CURRY
Vice President Of Division.

The son of W. J. Curry and Dora Andrews Curry, he is married to the former Helen Willis. They have three children and two grandchildren.

Destruction Of Mailboxes Stirs Warning

Mailboxes are protected by federal law and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy them and their contents may face a heavy fine or imprisonment, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown warned again today.

The postmaster noted that some 25,000 receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year over the U.S., with 2,641 persons arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

Brown quoted from the law: "Whoever wilfully or maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letterbox or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or wilfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property, Brown emphasized.

"Pranksters — and especially children who do not know any better — should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions," the postmaster added. "A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank."

The local office has had many calls lately reporting damaged mailboxes. Most of them are in rural areas and must be reported to constables first, Brown pointed out.

"The post office then makes a record of the cases and the inspection service has leads in some of the cases. Those responsible can be assured they will be dealt with severely where the situation warrants," he concluded.

The victims, a man and a woman from Wilmington, were among four persons riding in one of the cars. A Cincinnati man was in the other.

The fourth passenger in the Wilmington car and the other motorist—both men—were being treated at Greene Memorial Hospital here.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was 84 on Oct. 3. I have 13 living children, ight daughters and five sons, all married. They have blessed me with 39 grandchildren. No devils, no angels, just grandchildren.

We had a large home and it was reasonably harmonious most of the time, but with 13 children you can guess we had a variety of folks passing through. At times there were heated arguments about religion.

Our children went with Mormons, Jews, Catholics, Jehovah's Witnesses, Buddhists and others. (Some married into these faiths.)

One day when an argument about religion was in full swing, I took the group out to the front porch. I asked them to look at the wall just inside the door.

"What's on the wall? they asked.

"Hooks, I replied.

"We don't see any hooks," they said

"They are invisible," I explained. "And they are there for a purpose. Everyone who walks into this house must hang his religion on a hook when he enters and take it with him when he leaves."

There hasn't been an argument about religion in our house since that day. And the folks present must have passed the word to others because those hooks have been in constant use ever since.—DAD M. OF SEATTLE.

-:-

Dear Dad: What a perfect solution to a thory problem! I'll bet that on this very day thousands of invisible hooks are going up in 674 cities!

Free And Equal?

Dear Ann: I liked your answer to the mother who was having trouble with her middle child. She felt she should treat all her children alike to avoid favoritism. You told that each child should be dealt with according to his needs.

My psychology teacher believed as you do, and I always remember the example she used. Here it is:

A certain mother thought she was being fair to her children by treating them all alike. One day she gave each of her three children exactly the same sized piece of chocolate cake—to avoid "favoritism."

The oldest child didn't care very much for sweets, but he ate the chocolate cake and said it was okay. The second child was crazy about chocolate cake and asked for more—but his mother refused, saying, "No, you all get the same." The third child hated chocolate cake and left his piece on the plate untouched.

If that mother had been wise she would have recognized the special needs of her children and dealt with them accordingly instead of treating them all alike. Please print this letter if you think it has merit.—GOOD MEMORY.

Dear Good Memory: Love and affection, like chocolate cake, should be given not only to children but to adults according to the individual's special needs. Some people crave more tender, loving care than others. They wither without it.

It is well worth the additional effort to make these insecure people feel loved and wanted.

Confidentially

TO GLAD I DID IT: You must brush your teeth with gun powder, the way you shoot your mouth off. There can be no justification for what you said and I trust you won't be surprised if you never hear from her again.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Have you ever thought of using a large, thin plastic bag to cover your mirror before painting your bathroom. It adheres beautifully.

If you forget this—and some of us do—the grandest thing I found to remove paint from my mirror and window was fingernail polish remover. It works quickly.

P.C.

If you put plastic bags over your washbasin, bath tub, etc., before you start, it will save cleaning up many more spatters.

Plastic bags from the cleaners cling beautifully to all the aforementioned articles.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A good way to keep hot water bottles warm longer is to wrap a long piece of aluminum foil around the hot water bottle iteself.

To make it more comfortable, wrap a light towel around the foil.

MISS BETSY ROSS.

DEAR HELOISE: When you are out of cupcake papers, cut 4x4 inch pieces of aluminum foil. Shape them around the bottom of a small glass about 2 inches in diameter.

This makes perfect little liners for cupcake pans.

MRS. A. KIEFER.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: Homemaking is an important job . . . not only are you your own boss, but you are keeping the people you love happy.

MRS. ROBERT MEIER.

DEAR HELOISE: Your column is a must for me!

I have small rooms, limited storage space, an uncovered sewing machine which fascinates little ones, etc., etc.

So—what to do?

I had some drapes I wasn't using, so I made a sewing machine cover, covering only the top, front and two ends—leaving the back open.

On the inside of the cover, I attached pockets of all sizes and shapes to hold sewing needs (bias tape, lace, elastic, buttons, thread, scissors, etc.)—everything necessary to make sewing a pleasure.

When the cover is off, I place it (wrong side out) over the open board at the end of the machine, so that the pockets are accessible.

When the cover is back on the machine, all these pockets full of goodies are on the inside, and out of sight of prying little fingers.

When the machine is not in use, the cover protects it from dust.

CATHERINE RYAN.

DEAR HELOISE: What can be done for suede shoes that come in contact with other objects, and shiny spots appear on them?

READER.

The shiny spots can be removed by sanding them lightly with the rough side of an emery board or fine sand paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered that the end-papers left over from permanent wave kits, are effective for cleaning my eyeglasses.

CELE VARTIGIAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have noticed that when my precious linen hankies begin to wear, the break is almost always along the crease that has been ironed in repeatedly.

Now I vary the folds—anything except the usual half and quarter arrangement.

They last much longer than before.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Omnipotent Heroes Falter

Robert Lansing, the hero in ABC's "The Man Who Never Was," sat down to a heavy poker game in Wednesday night's episode. He won a half million dollars and the girl but lost the TV series. Next week — "Ulysses," with Kirk Douglas, is in the network's new Wednesday Night Movie spot.

Hal Humphrey

This makes Lansing a three-time loser at TV roulette. His first series was "87th Precinct," which died after one season on NBC in 1961-62. Two years ago he was the high-flying Gen. Frank Savage in ABC's "12 O'Clock High," was "killed off" and replaced by Paul Burke, who took command as Col. Joe Gallagher. Now Lansing turns in his spy hit after just a half-season of "The Man Who Never Was."

-:-

BOMBING OUT in a series with that title after just 18 episodes might put an ordinary actor-type into a trauma his psychiatrist would analyze for five years.

Lansing, however, seems to be bearing up bravely. He admits these experiences have taken the edge off any enthusiam for doing another TV series, but doesn't rule out the possibility of trying again in the sometime future.

"Television is the only place where the value of a product has nothing to do with its success or failure," says Lansing, more or less philosophically. "You try to pick a classic hero for yourself, that is, one who is omnipotent, then hope you get the right kind of sponsor-network support."

LANSING certainly found his omnipotent heroes in a detective, a flying Air Force general and a spy posing as a wealthy playboy whose wife (Dana Wynter) he inherits after the playboy is mistaken for the spy and killed.

As for sponsor-network support, Lansing believes "The Man Who Never Was" might at least have had 26 weeks of life if ABC had been financially involved in the production.

In 18 weeks, as he justifiably points out, many viewers of TV had not yet discovered the series was on the air. (It was not carried at Cleveland.)

A network with a piece of the series tends to hold on until it can amortize more of that investment, despite a low audience rating, which "TMWNW" had.

ALSO, a built-in alibi for almost any series on ABC is the network's inability to deliver what is known as a 100 per cent station clearance among its affiliated outlets, a fact which hampers its competing with NBC and CBS in the Nielsen rating poll.

Add to these factors a Lansing suspicion that Hollywood pressure (especially from the trade unions) mitigated against a series which was being filmed entirely overseas, and you wonder how "The Man Who Never Was" ever was in the first place.

"Lots of mail was eventually forwarded to me from viewers who had written the network, 20th Century-Fox who produced the series and even a TV magazine asking that the show be expanded to an hour," Lansing states, then adds pointedly, "and all of this mail was unopened."

OBVIOUSLY, he feels that no one cared enough to open such mail. Playing a spy as he was for the past few months, Lansing even may have decided all of this neglect sums up as some kind of conspiracy. That isn't likely, though, since the cops and airplane drivers haven't fared too well this season either.

Lansing's successor on "12 O'Clock High" (Paul Burke) has been shot down along with the whole 8th Air Force. Hawk, the New York policeman played by Burt Reynolds, is being discharged by ABC this week long before he got to participate in the pension fund. It simply isn't a good season for omnipotent heroes, in other words.

Meanwhile, Lansing at least has what amounts to an eight-week severance bundle. He was guaranteed 26 shows, and did only 18, so 20th Century-Fox is obligated to pay him while he rests up for Omnipotent Hero No. 4.

WHAT WILL IT BE? Well, Lansing doesn't think a series about a lumberjack would go because of "plot restrictions," but I disagree.

There's this lumberjack who has a wooden leg (from an old accident at the sawmill), and he can slide down a tree faster than anybody because he doesn't need to worry about picking up slivers, see, and . . .

Robert Lansing, the hero in ABC's "The Man Who Never Was," sat down to a heavy poker game in Wednesday night's episode. He won a half million dollars and the girl but lost the TV series. Next week — "Ulysses," with Kirk Douglas, is in the network's new Wednesday Night Movie spot.

Hal Humphrey

This makes Lansing a three-time loser at TV roulette. His first series was "87th Precinct," which died after one season on NBC in 1961-62. Two years ago he was the high-flying Gen. Frank Savage in ABC's "12 O'Clock High," was "killed off" and replaced by Paul Burke, who took command as Col. Joe Gallagher. Now Lansing turns in his spy hit after just a half-season of "The Man Who Never Was."

-:-

BOMBING OUT in a series with that title after just 18 episodes might put an ordinary actor-type into a trauma his psychiatrist would analyze for five years.

Lansing, however, seems to be bearing up bravely. He admits these experiences have taken the edge off any enthusiam for doing another TV series, but doesn't rule out the possibility of trying again in the sometime future.

"Television is the only place where the value of a product has nothing to do with its success or failure," says Lansing, more or less philosophically. "You try to pick a classic hero for yourself, that is, one who is omnipotent, then hope you get the right kind of sponsor-network support."

LANSING certainly found his omnipotent heroes in a detective, a flying Air Force general and a spy posing as a wealthy playboy whose wife (Dana Wynter) he inherits after the playboy is mistaken for the spy and killed.

As for sponsor-network support, Lansing believes "The Man Who Never Was" might at least have had 26 weeks of life if ABC had been financially involved in the production.

In 18 weeks, as he justifiably points out, many viewers of TV had not yet discovered the series was on the air. (It was not carried at Cleveland.)

A network with a piece of the series tends to hold on until it can amortize more of that investment, despite a low audience rating, which "TMWNW" had.

ALSO, a built-in alibi for almost any series on ABC is the network's inability to deliver what is known as a 100 per cent station clearance among its affiliated outlets, a fact which hampers its competing with NBC and CBS in the Nielsen rating poll.

Add to these factors a Lansing suspicion that Hollywood pressure (especially from the trade unions) mitigated against a series which was being filmed entirely overseas, and you wonder how "The Man Who Never Was" ever was in the first place.

"Lots of mail was eventually forwarded to me from viewers who had written the network, 20th Century-Fox who produced the series and even a TV magazine asking that the show be expanded to an hour," Lansing states, then adds pointedly, "and all of this mail was unopened."

OBVIOUSLY, he feels that no one cared enough to open such mail. Playing a spy as he was for the past few months, Lansing even may have decided all of this neglect sums up as some kind of conspiracy. That isn't likely, though, since the cops and airplane drivers haven't fared too well this season either.

Lansing's successor on "12 O'Clock High" (Paul Burke) has been shot down along with the whole 8th Air Force. Hawk, the New York policeman played by Burt Reynolds, is being discharged by ABC this week long before he got to participate in the pension fund. It simply isn't a good season for omnipotent heroes, in other words.

Meanwhile, Lansing at least has what amounts to an eight-week severance bundle. He was guaranteed 26 shows, and did only 18, so 20th Century-Fox is obligated to pay him while he rests up for Omnipotent Hero No. 4.

WHAT WILL IT BE? Well, Lansing doesn't think a series about a lumberjack would go because of "plot restrictions," but I disagree.

There's this lumberjack who has a wooden leg (from an old accident at the sawmill), and he can slide down a tree faster than anybody because he doesn't need to worry about picking up slivers, see, and . . .

Injuries Claim Midland Youth, 18, Struck By Car

Services will be held Saturday for Morris (Sandy) Martin, 19-year-old Midland youth who died Wednesday night at Presbyterian - University Hospital at Pittsburgh from injuries suffered when hit by an auto Dec. 22.

Son of Mrs. Sam Hays of East Liverpool and Morris Martin of Boston, he had not regained consciousness since struck by the car on Route 168 just north of the Midland Heights area.

A substitute on the 1965 Midland High School championship basketball team and a varsity squad member of the 1966 team, he had resided with his aunt, Mrs. Edith Silva of 121 4th St.

The youth received multiple skull fractures and internal injuries when struck by a car operated by Roy B. Bailey of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1.

Martin and a companion, Norman Vanlier of Midland, were walking north along the roadway about a quarter of a mile north of the borough line when Bailey's 1963 sedan hit the youth with the right front fender.

Taxable, Non-Taxable

By RAY DECRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A dividend received on your life insurance policy is not taxable on your annual income tax return. A cash dividend received on stock you own is taxable.

Contradictory? Not necessarily. But it does indicate the confusion that exists and the need for an understanding of taxable and non - taxable income.

The insurance dividend is not taxable because it is a partial return of your premium payment. The dividend on stock is taxable because it is money earned on your investment.

In general, all funds you receive in the course of a year must be reported on your income tax return unless such funds are specifically exempt from tax by law. Income from some sources is fully taxable, from others partially taxable, and from a third source completely exempt.

Wellsville Man Fined On Speeding Charges

Wendell H. Kazee, 36, of 2119 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a State Highway Patrol charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 Tuesday at 10 p.m.

Meanwhile, the judge dismissed on payment of costs a case in which Curtis R. Creel, 71, of 1252 Erie St. was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way as an aftermath of a collision between his auto and a motorcycle Dec. 21 on Pennsylvania Ave.

The judge acted after Creel turned over to the court a $262 check representing payment for damages to the motorcycle of George W. Blackwell, 17, of Toronto R. D. 2.

San Bernardino County, Calif., is the largest county in area in the United States.

City Hospital Treats Five

George Yaney of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, was in "fairly good" condition today with a hand injury received when a rope broke on a machine, amputating the index finger of his left hand.

Victor Dorrell of 810 Cadmus St., who is employed by the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., sustained abrasions and contusions of the right elbow and left hip when he fell while standing on an inclined plane.

Daniel Rice of 1849 Main St., Wellsville, employed by the Sun Coal Co. of Hammondsville, sustained farctured ribs and a dislocated small toe of the left foot when struck by a large stone.

Matt Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman of 812 Northside Ave., suffered a laceration of the right ear in a fall.

Farm Bureau To Open Appeal For Members

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau will meet Monday evening at the Mt. Nebo Grange to launch a drive toward a goal of 627 member families by Jan. 13.

President Dawson Irey of Lisbon R. D. 4 said the organization anticipates its best membership campaign in years. "Our mail campaign already has produced 400 members for 1967 —more than at this time last year." The county farm bureau had 626 member families in 1966.

Irey said he believes farmers realize the Farm Bureau is working for them on the local, state and national levels "because it is a farmer - owned and farmer - controlled organization."

He said all farmers in the county will be offered the opportunity to join the Farm Bureau "to help themselves through an organized farm effort."

Albert Hartley of Columbiana R. D. is growth chairman for the drive. "More profit for members" is the theme of the campaign statewide.

Members of Hartley's committee are Mrs. John Huston of Wellsville R. D. 1, Leland Baker of Lisbon R. D. 5, Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, Robert Murphy of Hanoverton R. D. 1 and John Bartels of Salem R.D. 1.

Fourteen men will serve as captains. They follow with their township areas:

Daryl Denn, Knox; Bartels, Butler; Greenisen, Perry; Tom Rudebock, Salem; Hartley, Fairfield; W. W. Baughman, Unity; Arthur Cowden, West; Irey, Hanover; Frank Murray, Center; Baker, Elkrun; Donald Smith, Middleton and Madison; Dale McKarns, Franklin and Wayne; Charles K. Coleman, St. Clair and Liverpool, and Herbert Frischkorn, Yellow Creek and Washington.

Irey said farmers working through the Farm Bureau have accomplished many legislative and marketing victories. Marketing programs for wheat and swine are being conducted at local and state levels and other marketing programs are being planned for major commodities, he said.

Third In A Series

Taxable, Non-Taxable

By RAY DECRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A dividend received on your life insurance policy is not taxable on your annual income tax return. A cash dividend received on stock you own is taxable.

Contradictory? Not necessarily. But it does indicate the confusion that exists and the need for an understanding of taxable and non - taxable income.

The insurance dividend is not taxable because it is a partial return of your premium payment. The dividend on stock is taxable because it is money earned on your investment.

In general, all funds you receive in the course of a year must be reported on your income tax return unless such funds are specifically exempt from tax by law. Income from some sources is fully taxable, from others partially taxable, and from a third source completely exempt.

THIS INCOME is taxable:

Periodic alimony and certain separation payments; awards; prizes; back pay, bonuses; business net income; commissions on sales; director's fees; gain from the sale of property; gambling net winnings; interest received from such sources as savings accounts, life insurance dividends left on deposit, notes, mortgages, land contracts, corporate bonds and savings bonds; jury duty fees; notary fees; income from partnerships; rental net income; salary and wages; severance pay; supplemental and unemployment benefits and tips.

Tall, Tall Columbus East Brings 7-0 Mark Here Friday

Smallest Starter Stands At 6-3½

The strongest opponent on the East Liverpool High schedule and perhaps the strongest and tallest team in Ohio will appear at Memorial Auditorium Friday night to begin a busy weekend for the Potters.

The tall, tall Tigers from Columbus East, which could be the state's No. 1 team in the first poll of the season next week, brings a 7-0 record to East Liverpool and shows a starting five averaginig over 6-4.

Potter fans are reminded that no preliminary game will be staged Friday night and only a varsity game will be played with tipoff at 8:30 p. m. The Columbus team has thrilled many fans with their warmup routines. On Saturday night the Potters entertain Youngstown East on the MA court.

COACH Bob Hart who guided Columbus East to a state championship in 1963 says of his current team, "potentially this team could be better than our championship squad. We are taller, in fact we probably have the tallest team in Ohio."

Not many would argue this point in looking over the starting lineup which includes two sensational sophomores, a junior and two seniors at 6-5, 6-5, 6-6, 6-4 and 6-3½.

East will start Ed Ratliff and Alonzo Connor, a couple of 6-5 sophomore giants, who also are the leading scorers on the team. Ratliff is averaginig over 17 points a game with 123 points in seven contests while Connor has scored 101 points.

—:—

FOUR of the five starters are averaging in the double figures with Randy Smith, a 6-6 junior, scoring an average of 10 per game and Harry Hairston, a 6-4 senior, is hitting about 11 a contest.

With Hairston and Vance Carr a 6-3½ senior at guards, East has two of the tallest guards that can be found anywhere.

Hart did say that Carr has been ailing and may not play Friday but if he can't start he would be replaced by either Mel Fowlkes, a 6-5 senior or Howard Harris, a 5-10 junior.

—:—

WHILE rolling up seven straight victories, East has scored on an average of 76.9 points per game while limiting opponents to 46.9 per contest.

Last week Columbus East completed a two game sweep of Northeastern Ohio teams defeating Cuyahoga Falls, 72-50 and Canton Lincoln 60-56 on consecutive nights.

Coach Hart calls those two victories the most impressive of the season since both schools were undefeated before meeting East.

LINCOLN is considered one of the strongset teams in Northeastern Ohio and gave East its sternest test of the season. The Tigers' other five victories show four over Columbus area opponents plus a 34-point victory over the Salem Quakers.

Potter coach Clinton McConnell watched with amazement as Columbus East defeated Cuyahoga Falls. "They're very strong off the boards. I have never seen a high school team rebound as well as they do. If one or two can't get the ball they have three more players of great height to rebound," McConnell said.

"IN THE Cuyahoga Falls game about 50 per cent of their scoring came on the second and third shots off the board, in other words, they score quite a bit on tap-ins," he added.

In the game with Cuyahoga Falls East owned a 70-43 edge in rebounds and displayed an awesome fastbreak that cracked the game wide open.

Meanwhile, McConnell announced that East Liverpool's lineup would remain the same and that "the team has worked hard over the holidays."

The starting lineup for the Potters will show Mitchell Jones, 6-5, Bruce Christian 6-4, Vern Smith, 6-1, Mike McVay, 6-1 and Earl Diddle, 5-10.

Tigers Are Rated One Of Best

Bing Scores 33 Points In Detroit Win

By The Associated Press

When he is hard-pressed to point out a Dave Bing weakness, Detroit Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere will say the brilliant Pistons' rookie needs a little work on his defense.

But then Bing will come up with a performance like the one he turned in during the Pistons' 132-126 National Basketball Association double-overtime victory over Baltimore Wednesday night and defense seems almost beside the point.

Bing scored six points in the second overtime and led the Pistons with 33 points, the same number Don Ohl had for Baltimore. The Pistons had led by as much as 13 points in the second half, but the Bullets took an 86-77 lead after three periods as the Pistons got just 14 points in the third period.

Jack Marin's 20-foot jumper in the final second of the first overtime gave the Bullets another chance, but only delayed their 10th straight defeat, a club record.

In other NBA games Wednesday, Philadelphia beat Chicago 136-115 in Philadelphia and the Lakers whipped St. Louis 122-101 at Los Angeles.

Philadelphia won its 11th game in a row with Bill Cunningham scoring 27 points and Wilt Chamberlain hauling in 25 rebounds, scoring 21 points and passing off for nine assists. Bob Boozer and Erwin Mueller led the Bulls with 20 points each.

The Lakers reeled off 17 straight points during a four-minute span in the final period that carried them to their victory over St. Louis. Jerry West topped Los Angeles with 35 points while Joe Caldwell was high for the Hawks with 30.

PLAY IS STOPPED while Detroit players search the court for the contact lens lost by Eddie Miles during Wednesday night's game with the Bullets in Baltimore. The official also helps in the hunt. (UPI Telephoto)

Fordham Upsets N. C. State

3rd-Ranked Tar Heels Nip Wake Forest For 10th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Larry Miller, North Carolina's muscular junior, is so strong he once broke a basket during a warmup.

But he was all finesse in the final seconds of Monday night's 76-74 victory over Wake Forest at Winston Salem, N.C.

The Tar Heels had battled from behind to tie the score. Then with seven seconds left, Miller stole the ball, dribbled two-thirds of the court and lofted a soft underhand lay-up over two defending players for the winning basket.

It was the 10th victory in 11 starts for third-ranked North Carolina and Coach Dean Smith was more than pleased with his club despite the close call.

"I thought we played one of our best games," said Smith. "Don't let that score fool you. Wake Forest was tough. We can't play much better than that."

Miller, a barrel-chested 6-foot-3, 210-pounder, led North Carolina with 23 points while sophomore Rusty Clark added 20. Jerry Montgomery's 20 points led Wake Forest, which shot 55.1 per cent from the floor.

At Greensboro, N.C., Fordham of New York upset North Carolina State 65-63 with sophomore reserve Dennis Witkowski scoring 19 of the Ram's final 21 points.

Richmond, which had lost 11 straight to Davidson, ended the streak with a 72-69 victory over the Wildcats. Tom Green's two free throws with four seconds left wrapped up the victory for the Spiders after an apparent go-ahead basket by Davidson's Rod Knowles was nullified by the foul.

St. John's of New York overtook George Washington in the second half and defeated the Colonials 60-53. Sonny Dove led the Redmen with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

Dayton, down by as many as 14 points in the first half, caught Xavier with less than eight minutes to play and scored a 75-72 victory over the Musketeers.

Packers Go West Sunday

Chiefs Launch Practice For Super Bowl, Green Bay On The Way

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Super Bowl report: the Kansas City Chiefs have arrived and are practicing, Green Bay is on the way, ticket sales are questionable and a suit is proceeding over the scheduled television blackout of Los Angeles.

The Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, arrived in nearby Long Beach and held their first practice Wednesday afternoon.

Flanker Otis Taylor was fined for missing the team flight, but showed up at practice. Coach Frank Stram wouldn't say how much Taylor was fined, but set up strict training rules.

The Chiefs, who beat Buffalo, 31-7, for the AFL title, have definite ideas about beating National Football League champion Green Bay in the first game of its kind Jan. 15 in Memorial Coliseum.

Stram said there will be a squad meeting each day at 10 a.m., the team will practice each afternoon for one hour and 15 minutes, and Disneyland isn't on the schedule.

The only injured Chief is tight end Fred Arbanas, who has a slight shoulder separation but is expected to be ready for the game.

The Green Bay Packers, who edged Dallas, 34-27, for NFL honors, will train at UC Santa Barbara, about 90 miles north of Los Angeles.

The Packers will leave Green Bay next Sunday and will practice at Santa Barbara through Friday, Jan. 13. The next day Coach Vince Lombardi's club will work out in the Coliseum.

Meanwhile, just how many fans will turn out is causing some controversy. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Coliseum, said the game will fill the 93,000-seat stadium.

But 49,000 seats go on sale today in the Southern California area. Reportedly, 27,000 seats have been sold and 18,000 have been allocated to teams in the respective leagues.

Rozelle gave a deposition Wednesday in a federal court suit to prevent the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System from blacking out the area.

The suit has been filed for local businessman Alan Minter by attorney Arthur Toll, who said: "We now have these statements and we will properly present them to the court hearing Friday."

The case is scheduled to come before U.S. District Judge William Grey.

Indians Give Up Three

Maye Is Traded To Tribe In 5-Player Transaction

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Outfielder Lee Maye said the Houston Astros expected him to be a miracle man.

"I'm not a miracle man and never claimed to be. All I have ever tried to do is give my best on the field," Maye said Wednesday after learning he had been traded to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Jim Landis in a five-player deal.

Houston also received catcher Doc Edwards and pitcher Jim Weaver in the deal. Both were with Portland in the Pacific Coast League last season.

Cleveland acquired catcher Ken Retzer, who was with the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club last year.

Landis, 32, has a 10-year batting average of .247 for 10 seasons with the Chicago White Sox, Kansas City Athletics and Cleveland.

Maye, also 32, hit .288 with Houston last year. Maye, also a popular recording artist, came to Houston May 23, 1965 from Milwaukee in a deal that sent Astro pitcher Ken Johnson to the Braves.

The trade was the second in a week by the Astros. Last Saturday Houston traded outfielder Dave Nicholson and pitcher Bob Bruce to the Atlanta Braves for veteran third baseman Eddie Mathews and pitcher Arnie Umbach.

Houston Manager Grady Hatton said the Mathews trade was indirectly responsible for the Maye-Landis deal.

"With Mathews a left-hander, we felt it necessary to better balance our attack with the right-hand hitting of Landis, who also is a great defensive fielder," Hatton said.

Maye had his best campaign in the big leagues in 1964 when he batted .304 and knocked in 74 runs.

Landis played in 88 games last season at Cleveland, most of them as a late-inning defensive replacement.

He batted only .222 with three home runs. His best season was 1961 when he batted .283 and drove in 85 runs for the White Sox.

Retzer, 32, will report to Cleveland's Portland club. Weaver, 27, and Edwards, also 27, will be placed on the Astros' Oklahoma City roster.

Hill Breaks Course Mark In Warm Up

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)— The $22,000 Southern California Open golf competition begins today, and among the favorites is rusty, sleepy and bespectacled Dave Hill.

Hill, of Evergreen, Colo., broke the Los Coyotes Country Club course record with a seven-under par 65 Wednesday in the pro-amateur warmup. Of course, the 28-year-old pro had a number of factors in his favor.

Hill had not played a competitive round since Dec. 10. He left Denver at 1 a.m., arrived in Los Angeles at 4 a.m. and showed up at the course at 7 a.m. And he wore glasses for the first time, having bought them Tuesday.

With these advantages, Hill hit each green in regulation and sank seven birdie putts for a 33-32. Former record for the par-72, 6,600-yard course was 68, shot by 10 players.

Hill's team, however, didn't win the pro-amateur. The five-some of pro Bob Harrison and amateurs Ernie Serfas, Paul Karres, George Clayton and C. L. Chase, all of Los Angeles, shot a best-ball 121 for the title.

Heading the field of 350 golfers challenging Hill are defending champion George Bayer, Tommy Jacobs, Jerry Barber, Jack Fleck, Kermit Zarley and other lesser-known players from the pro tour.

The first round is split, with about 175 golfers teeing off today and Friday. Saturday, the field will be cut to the low 120 scorers and Sunday to the low 60 scorers. Winner of the 54-hole event will collect $4,000.

Enters Boston Run

BOSTON (AP) — John Lawson, the 1965 NCAA cross country champion while at Kansas, was entered today in the Leo Larrivee two-mile run of the 41st Knights of Columbus track meet Jan. 14 at the Boston Garden. Lawson has done 8:44 in the two-mile.

Co-Captains Selected For Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Co-captains for the South team were named today for the 18th annual Senior Bowl Football classic by South Coach Otto Graham of the Washington Redskins.

Graham named Baylor's Terry Southall as offensive captain and Southern Mississippi's Ken Avery as defensive captain.

Southall completed 173 passes for 1,986 yards this year and was voted the most valuable player in the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery. Avery will play linebacker for the squad.

The nation's top total offense leader, quarterback Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, was named offensive captain for the North Wednesday by Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings.

The North coach named Pittsburgh's Jim Flanigan as defensive captain.

Carter took the major college total offense title by passing and running for an astounding 2,545 yards during the regular season. Flanigan will play as a linebacker.

Syracuse, Tennessee Get $165,500 Each

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Syracuse and Tennessee will each receive about $165,500 from the Gator Bowl football game.

As an independent, Syracuse will keep all its share. Tennessee gets $120,000 plus one-eleventh of the rest in a split with fellow Southeastern Conference schools and the commissioner's office.

Tennessee won the game 18-12 last Saturday.

Toledo Has Right 'Mix' To Trip BG

By The Associated Press

The right Mix at Bowling Green and a Klaus call in Cincinnati.

That was the story as Toledo's Rockets and Dayton's Flyers won hard-fought games Wednesday night to continue as Ohio college basketball's biggest winners.

Steve Mix, Toledo's husky sophomore center, kept his team the state's only unbeaten while spoiling the Mid-American Conference opener for preseason league favorite Bowling Green. He scored 31 points in pacing a 98-94 conquest of the Falcons, whose sports information director—his brother Jerry—watched with Mix-ed emotions.

Veteran backliner Gene Klaus, Dayton's able sixth man, came up with his biggest performance of the campaign just when it was needed. He netted 23 points that carried his squad to a comeback 75-72 verdict over rugged Xavier, the Flyers' 11th success in 12 efforts.

Toledo, 8-0 over-all, lifted its MAC record to 2-0 while dangerous Miami launched its league campaign with an easy 67-49 victory at Kent State. The Rockets and Redskins clash in a televised match Saturday afternoon that should establish a championship favorite.

In other action Wednesday, Otterbein (6-1) with Don Carlos starring as usual (18 points) dealt Central State the Marauders' first home court loss in four years, 61-40, while Walsh absorbed 110-83 punishment from Geneva (Pa.). Walt Piatkowski, who topped Bowling Green scoring with 23 points, climaxed a drive from a 71-60 deficit with a goal cutting it to 92-91 but the Falcons couldn't catch up.

Xavier, whose giant Luther Rackley scored 21 points and took 25 rebounds, zoomed to a 41-27 lead over Dayton before the Flyers got going. Dayton didn't catch up until a Klaus basket with 7:45 left made it 61-61, then shot in front 69-62.

Miami's deliberate style of play prevailed at Kent, where it was never close after the opening minutes.

Barons Defeat Hockey Foe As Fight Erupts

The Cleveland Barons scored three times in less than a minute, won by eight points, and saw a 15-minute fight break out in what must have been the most exciting game in the American Hockey League Wednesday night.

Cecil Hoekstra scored three goals and assisted on two, leading the Barons to a 10-2 victory in the match with Springfield. He also got help from Tom McCarthy and Fred Glover who scored twice each.

The fight that broke out in the final period resulted in penalties to goalie Jacques Caron and Barclay Plager of Springfield, and Glover.

Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves tied a National League record last season whn he drove in 127 runs. It was the fourth time he led the league.

Tall, Tall Columbus East Brings 7-0 Mark Here Friday

★ ★ ★

Smallest Starter Stands At 6-3½

The strongest opponent on the East Liverpool High schedule and perhaps the strongest and tallest team in Ohio will appear at Memorial Auditorium Friday night to begin a busy weekend for the Potters.

The tall, tall Tigers from Columbus East, which could be the state's No. 1 team in the first poll of the season next week, brings a 7-0 record to East Liverpool and shows a starting five averaginig over 6-4.

Potter fans are reminded that no preliminary game will be staged Friday night and only a varsity game will be played with tipoff at 8:30 p. m. The Columbus team has thrilled many fans with their warmup routines. On Saturday night the Potters entertain Youngstown East on the MA court.

—:—

COACH Bob Hart who guided Columbus East to a state championship in 1963 says of his current team, "potentially this team could be better than our championship squad. We are taller, in fact we probably have the tallest team in Ohio."

Not many would argue this point in looking over the starting lineup which includes two sensational sophomores, a junior and two seniors at 6-5, 6-5, 6-6, 6-4 and 6-3½.

East will start Ed Ratliff and Alonzo Connor, a couple of 6-5 sophomore giants, who also are the leading scorers on the team. Ratliff is averaginig over 17 points a game with 123 points in seven contests while Connor has scored 101 points.

—:—

FOUR of the five starters are averaging in the double figures with Randy Smith, a 6-6 junior, scoring an average of 10 per game and Harry Hairston, a 6-4 senior, is hitting about 11 a contest.

With Hairston and Vance Carr a 6-3½ senior at guards, East has two of the tallest guards that can be found anywhere.

Hart did say that Carr has been ailing and may not play Friday but if he can't start he would be replaced by either Mel Fowlkes, a 6-5 senior or Howard Harris, a 5-10 junior.

—:—

WHILE rolling up seven straight victories, East has scored on an average of 76.9 points per game while limiting opponents to 46.9 per contest.

Last week Columbus East completed a two game sweep of Northeastern Ohio teams defeating Cuyahoga Falls, 72-50 and Canton Lincoln 60-56 on consecutive nights.

Coach Hart calls those two victories the most impressive of the season since both schools were undefeated before meeting East.

LINCOLN is considered one of the strongset teams in Northeastern Ohio and gave East its sternest test of the season. The Tigers' other five victories show four over Columbus area opponents plus a 34-point victory over the Salem Quakers.

Potter coach Clinton McConnell watched with amazement as Columbus East defeated Cuyahoga Falls. "They're very strong off the boards. I have never seen a high school team rebound as well as they do. If one or two can't get the ball they have three more players of great height to rebound," McConnell said.

—:—

"IN THE Cuyahoga Falls game about 50 per cent of their scoring came on the second and third shots off the board, in other words, they score quite a bit on tap-ins," he added.

In the game with Cuyahoga Falls East owned a 70-43 edge in rebounds and displayed an awesome fastbreak that cracked the game wide open.

Meanwhile, McConnell announced that East Liverpool's lineup would remain the same and that "the team has worked hard over the holidays."

The starting lineup for the Potters will show Mitchell Jones, 6-5, Bruce Christian 6-4, Vern Smith, 6-1, Mike McVay, 6-1 and Earl Diddle, 5-10.

Bing Scores 33 Points In Detroit Win

By The Associated Press

When he is hard-pressed to point out a Dave Bing weakness, Detroit Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere will say the brilliant Pistons' rookie needs a little work on his defense.

But then Bing will come up with a performance like the one he turned in during the Pistons' 132-126 National Basketball Association double-overtime victory over Baltimore Wednesday night and defense seems almost beside the point.

Bing scored six points in the second overtime and led the Pistons with 33 points, the same number Don Ohl had for Baltimore. The Pistons had led by as much as 13 points in the second half, but the Bullets took an 86-77 lead after three periods as the Pistons got just 14 points in the third period.

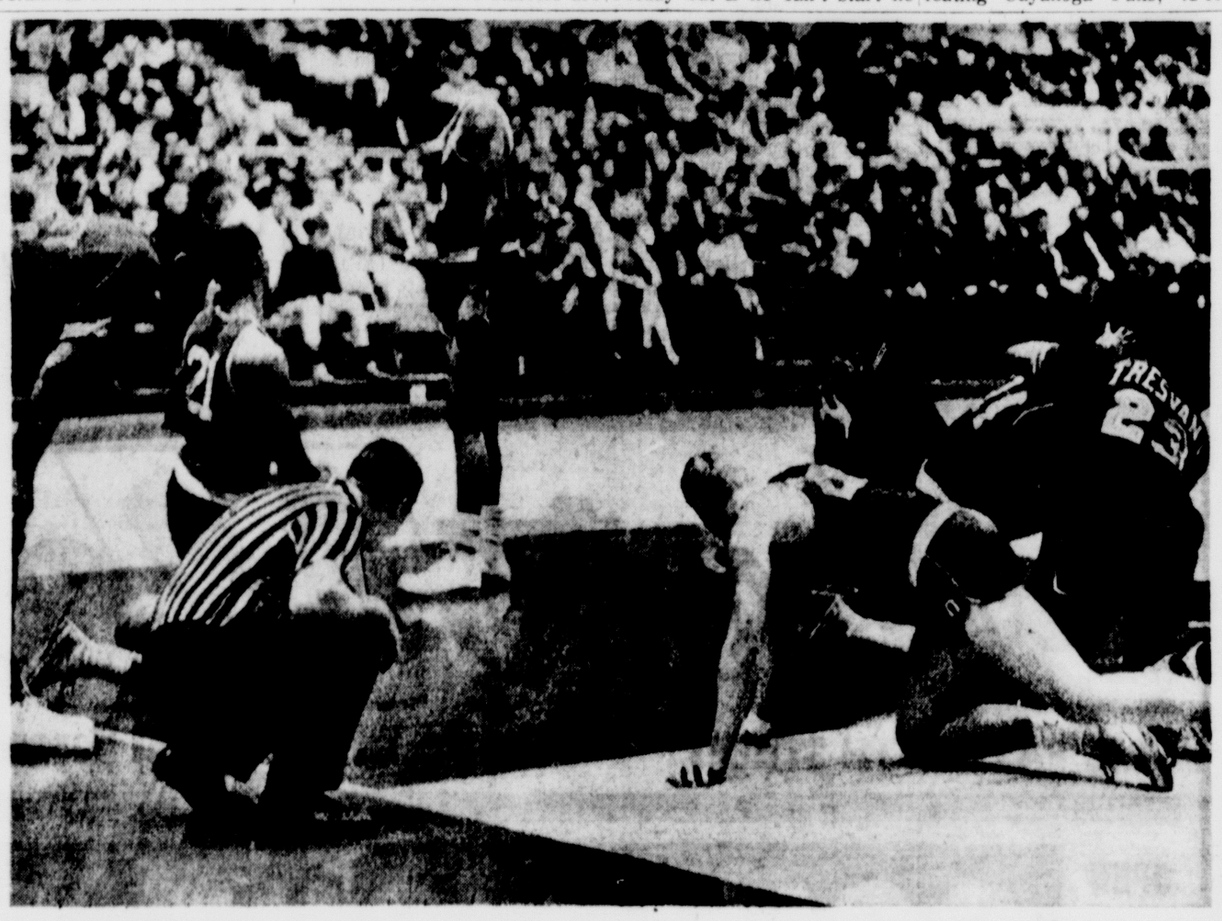
A tap-in by DeBusschere with 30 seconds left sent the game into overtime.

Jack Marin's 20-foot jumper in the final second of the first overtime gave the Bullets another chance, but only delayed their 10th straight defeat, a club record.

In other NBA games Wednesday, Philadelphia beat Chicago 136-115 in Philadelphia and the Lakers whipped St. Louis 122-101 at Los Angeles.

Philadelphia won its 11th game in a row with Bill Cunningham scoring 27 points and Wilt Chamberlain hauling in 25 rebounds, scoring 21 points and passing off for nine assists. Bob Boozer and Erwin Mueller led the Bulls with 20 points each.

The Lakers reeled off 17 straight points during a four-minute span in the final period that carried them to their victory over St. Louis. Jerry West topped Los Angeles with 35 points while Joe Caldwell was high for the Hawks with 30.



PLAY IS STOPPED while Detroit players search the court for the contact lens lost by Eddie Miles during Wednesday night's game with the Bullets in Baltimore. The official also helps in the hunt. (UPI Telephoto)

Fordham Upsets N. C. State

3rd-Ranked Tar Heels Nip Wake Forest For 10th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Larry Miller, North Carolina's muscular junior, is so strong he once broke a basket during a warmup.

But he was all finesse in the final seconds of Monday night's 76-74 victory over Wake Forest at Winston Salem, N.C.

The Tar Heels had battled from behind to tie the score. Then with seven seconds left, Miller stole the ball, dribbled two-thirds of the court and lofted a soft underhand lay-up over two defending players for the winning basket.

It was the 10th victory in 11 starts for third-ranked North Carolina and Coach Dean Smith was more than pleased with his club despite the close call.

"I thought we played one of our best games," said Smith. "Don't let that score fool you. Wake Forest was tough. We can't play much better than that."

Miller, a barrel-chested 6-foot-3, 210-pounder, led North Carolina with 23 points while sophomore Rusty Clark added 20. Jerry Montgomery's 20 points led Wake Forest, which shot 55.1 per cent from the floor.

At Greensboro, N.C., Fordham of New York upset North Carolina State 65-63 with sophomore reserve Dennis Witkowski scoring 19 of the Ram's final 21 points.

Witkowski, who collected 22 points and hit eight of 10 field goal attempts in 24 minutes of action, dropped in a pair of free throws with 10 seconds left for the winning points.

Richmond, which had lost 11 straight to Davidson, ended the streak with a 72-69 victory over the Wildcats. Tom Green's two free throws with four seconds left wrapped up the victory for the Spiders after an apparent go-ahead basket by Davidson's Rod Knowles was nullified by the foul.

St. John's of New York overtook George Washington in the second half and defeated the Colonials 60-53. Sonny Dove led the Redmen with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

Dayton, down by as many as 14 points in the first half, caught Xavier with less than eight minutes to play and scored a 75-72 victory over the Musketeers.

Packers Go West Sunday

Chiefs Launch Practice For Super Bowl, Green Bay On The Way

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Super Bowl report: the Kansas City Chiefs have arrived and are practicing, Green Bay is on the way, ticket sales are questionable and a suit is proceeding over the scheduled television blackout of Los Angeles.

The Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, arrived in nearby Long Beach and held their first practice Wednesday afternoon.

Flanker Otis Taylor was fined for missing the team flight, but showed up at practice. Coach Frank Stram wouldn't say how much Taylor was fined, but set up strict training rules.

The Chiefs, who beat Buffalo, 31-7, for the AFL title, have definite ideas about beating National Football League champion Green Bay in the first game of its kind Jan. 15 in Memorial Coliseum.

Stram said there will be a squad meeting each day at 10 a.m., the team will practice each afternoon for one hour and 15 minutes, and Disneyland isn't on the schedule.

The only injured Chief is tight end Fred Arbanas, who has a slight shoulder separation but is expected to be ready for the game.

The Green Bay Packers, who edged Dallas, 34-27, for NFL honors, will train at UC Santa Barbara, about 90 miles north of Los Angeles.

The Packers will leave Green Bay next Sunday and will practice at Santa Barbara through Friday, Jan. 13. The next day Coach Vince Lombardi's club will work out in the Coliseum.

Meanwhile, just how many fans will turn out is causing some controversy. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Coliseum, said the game will fill the 93,000-seat stadium.

But 49,000 seats go on sale today in the Southern California area. Reportedly, 27,000 seats have been sold and 18,000 have been allocated to teams in the respective leagues.

Rozelle gave a deposition Wednesday in a federal court suit to prevent the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System from blacking out the area.

The suit has been filed for local businessman Alan Minter by attorney Arthur Toll, who said: "We now have these statements and we will properly present them to the court hearing Friday."

The case is scheduled to come before U.S. District Judge William Grey.

Indians Give Up Three

Maye Is Traded To Tribe In 5-Player Transaction

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Outfielder Lee Maye said the Houston Astros expected him to be a miracle man.

"I'm not a miracle man and never claimed to be. All I have ever tried to do is give my best on the field," Maye said Wednesday after learning he had been traded to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Jim Landis in a five-player deal.

Houston also received catcher Doc Edwards and pitcher Jim Weaver in the deal. Both were with Portland in the Pacific Coast League last season.

Cleveland acquired catcher Ken Retzer, who was with the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club last year.

Landis, 32, has a 10-year batting average of .247 for 10 seasons with the Chicago White Sox, Kansas City Athletics and Cleveland.

Maye, also 32, hit .288 with Houston last year. Maye, also a popular recording artist, came to Houston May 23, 1965 from Milwaukee in a deal that sent Astro pitcher Ken Johnson to the Braves.

The trade was the second in a week by the Astros. Last Saturday Houston traded outfielder Dave Nicholson and pitcher Bob Bruce to the Atlanta Braves for veteran third baseman Eddie Mathews and pitcher Arnie Umbach.

Houston Manager Grady Hatton said the Mathews trade was indirectly responsible for the Maye-Landis deal.

"With Mathews a left-hander, we felt it necessary to better balance our attack with the right-hand hitting of Landis, who also is a great defensive fielder," Hatton said.

Maye had his best campaign in the big leagues in 1964 when he batted .304 and knocked in 74 runs.

Landis played in 88 games last season at Cleveland, most of them as a late-inning defensive replacement.

He batted only .222 with three home runs. His best season was 1961 when he batted .283 and drove in 85 runs for the White Sox.

Retzer, 32, will report to Cleveland's Portland club. Weaver, 27, and Edwards, also 27, will be placed on the Astros' Oklahoma City roster.

Hill Breaks Course Mark In Warm Up

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)— The $22,000 Southern California Open golf competition begins today, and among the favorites is rusty, sleepy and bespectacled Dave Hill.

Hill, of Evergreen, Colo., broke the Los Coyotes Country Club course record with a seven-under par 65 Wednesday in the pro-amateur warmup. Of course, the 28-year-old pro had a number of factors in his favor.

Hill had not played a competitive round since Dec. 10. He left Denver at 1 a.m., arrived in Los Angeles at 4 a.m. and showed up at the course at 7 a.m. And he wore glasses for the first time, having bought them Tuesday.

With these advantages, Hill hit each green in regulation and sank seven birdie putts for a 33-32. Former record for the par-72, 6,600-yard course was 68, shot by 10 players.

Hill's team, however, didn't win the pro-amateur. The five-some of pro Bob Harrison and amateurs Ernie Serfas, Paul Karres, George Clayton and C. L. Chase, all of Los Angeles, shot a best-ball 121 for the title.

Heading the field of 350 golfers challenging Hill are defending champion George Bayer, Tommy Jacobs, Jerry Barber, Jack Fleck, Kermit Zarley and other lesser-known players from the pro tour.

The first round is split, with about 175 golfers teeing off today and Friday. Saturday, the field will be cut to the low 120 scorers and Sunday to the low 60 scorers. Winner of the 54-hole event will collect $4,000.

BOSTON (AP) — John Lawson, the 1965 NCAA cross country champion while at Kansas, was entered today in the Leo Larrivee two-mile run of the 41st Knights of Columbus track meet Jan. 14 at the Boston Garden. Lawson has done 8:44 in the two-mile.

Divers Continue Campbell Search

By GRANVILLE WATTS

CONISTON, England (AP) — Royal Navy frogmen readied to explore the dark depths of England's Lake Coniston today for the body of British speed ace Donald Campbell — strapped in the cockpit of his sunken jetboat, Bluebird.

The boat, powered by an aircraft jet engine, somersaulted, crashed and sank in 120 feet of water Wednesday as it topped 300 miles per hour on the brink of exceeding Campbell's own world water speed record.

Divers were using powerful underwater lights to search the chilly waters of Coniston in the mountainous lake district. Immediately after the crash they found it too dark to see below 70 feet but nevertheless found Campbell's helmet, shoes and oxygen mask amid pieces of his 12-year-old jetboat. His teddy bear mascot was picked up, too.

"Campbell was firmly strapped to his seat and we expect to find him still in the cockpit," said Norman Buckley, chief official observer of the record attempt.

"Campbell always said that if something serious happened he didn't stand a chance," Buckley added.

Although the 45-year-old British daredevil had a jet engine behind him, he had no ejector seat for use if things went wrong.

In a way, this was typical of an ardently patriotic Englishman who courted death to emulate a famous father — Sir Malcolm Campbell, who set up world land and water speed records in the 1930s.

Donald Campbell was the first man to hold land and water speed records in the same year.

In 1964, he reached 403.1 m.p.h. in his gas turbine-engined car, Bluebird, and hit 276.33 m.p.h. on water in the speedboat of the same name. It was in an effort to beat his own water record that Campbell perished.

Why did he do it?

"I think he did it for Britain," said Leo Villa, Campbell's chief engineer. "You can laugh at that, but Campbell was really proud of this record. He wanted to extend it so that it would be more difficult for anyone to beat."

Rule Changed Over Time At Bat On Bunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players who bunt for a hit will no longer automatically escape being charged with a time at bat, even if base runners advance on the play.

Charley Segar, chairman of the Scoring Rules Committee said Wednesday, "It's been obvious that players have been bunting for a base hit when their teams are losing, say 8 or 9-1."

Instructions to official scorers have been changed to read, "do not score a sacrifice bunt when in the judgment of the scorer the batter is bunting for a base hit and not solely for the purpose of advancing a runner or runners. In that event, charge the batter with a time at bat."

Sale Of Reds Expected To Be Completed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sale of the Cincinnati Reds to a group of businessmen is expected to be completed soon despite delays in building a sports stadium and the awarding of a professional football franchise to the city.

Completion of the sale has hinged indirectly on the city getting an American Football League franchise and a new riverfront stadium. City officials have said the stadium will not be started until assurance is given that the city will get the football team.

The new Red owners have indicated they will sign a 40-year lease to play in a new stadium. It was hoped that sale of the baseball club by William O. Dewitt would be completed by Jan. 9.

The city had also hoped to have assurance by Jan. 9 that it was getting the football team. A spokesman said, however, that the awarding of the franchise probably will be announced after the AFL-NFL championship game Jan. 15.

Francis L. Dale, president of 617 Inc., the new owners of the Reds, said Wednesday he was optimistic that the city will get the AFL franchise and his group's deal for the Reds will be completed.

617 Inc. will hold a board meeting tonight at which time the group is expected to ask the city to withdraw the condition that says the city must have assurance of a pro football team in order to get the stadium.

As an alternative the group may ask DeWitt for an extension on the closing date for buying the Reds for an estimated $7 million.

Hula Bowl Is Filled With Best Grid Talent

HONOLULU (AP)—The Hula Bowl game Friday night will have more outstanding players than any other all-star football game has ever had, declares Stanford coach John Ralston.

Ralston and Darrell Royal of Texas are coaches of the South squad. It will face a North team directed by Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Murray Warmath of Minnesota.

Ralston noted Wednesday that Steve Spurrier of Florida and Bobb Griese of Purdue will be the opposing quarterbacks. They have been rated the top two collegiate performers all season.

Among the running backs are Mel Farr of UCLA, Clinton Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse, Pete Pifer of Oregon State and Charlie Brown of Missouri.

Rod Sherman of Southern California and Harry Hones of Arkansas will alternate at flanker back for the South.

George Webster of Michigan State and Purdue's George Catavalos, who made the clutch interception of Southern Cal's pass for a two-point conversion in Purdue's 14-13 Rose Bowl victory, will be in the North's defensive lineup.

Among the outstanding interior linemen are Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas, John Lagrone of Southern Methodist, Gary Bugenhagen of Syracuse, Jack Calcaterra of Purdue, John Richardson of UCLA, and Diron Talbert of Texas. Ends Jack Clancy of Michigan and Tom Greenlee of Michigan are on hand.

A sellout crowd of 24,000 is expected in Honolulu Stadium for the game starting at 7:45 p.m. (12:45 a.m. EST).

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

A TRAFFIC LIGHT THAT COUNTS DOWN from 9 to 1 when the green light goes off and the yellow comes on, is now in use in Abilene Texas. It gives drivers an idea how much more green light there is left so they can tell if they can drive on through with safety.

THE SUBURBAN CAR OF TOMORROW MAY be 3-wheeled, electrically driven, and made for two people plus packages, and designed for maneuverability and economy in our cities. It's just a dream as yet.

HERE AT M & A MOTORS OUR BUSINESS has grown over the years through repeat business to satisfied customers (Over 9,000 sold). Many families have bought twelve to 15 cars from us over the years. For a safe, A-OK used car see us at 614 Broadway in East Liverpool, or at 214 Wells, Wellsville.

HERE YOU'LL ALSO FIND the new Dodge cars and trucks for 1967, the finest ever produced, plus the best deal you ever had.

NEW YORK STATE HAS PAID TO HAVE a "safe car" designed. Preliminary drawings make the car look like a tank, with aircraft like "rib" construction. It is a $100,000 feasibility study.

A CAR OR TRUCK MOVING AT 60 MPH can now be accurately weighed using an electronic scale being tested near Jackson, Mich. The truck goes over four scales and beneath an arch of electronic sensors. A computer triggers an alarm if the rig is overloaded for its size.

BE CAREFUL DRIVING TO WORK—you might hit someone who owes you money!

Notre Dame Picked 1st By Writers

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Notre Dame was selected today as the top college football team in the nation by the Football Writers Association of America.

Arnie Burdick, executive sports editor of the Syracuse Herald-Journal and president of the association, said Coach Ara Parseghian's team narrowly edged Michigan State and Alabama in the balloting by a five-man panel.

Notre Dame, on the basis of five points for first, three for second and one for third, totaled 18 points.

Michigan State, which received only one first-place vote to two each for Notre Dame and Alabama, had 14 points, one more than Alabama.

Panel members were Jerry Nason of the Boston Globe, Fred Russell of The Nashville Banner, Si Burdick of The Dayton News, Jack Murphy of the San Diego Union and Maury White of the Des Moines Register.

Former Hockey Star Fair After Shooting

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fleming Mackell, former star for the Boston Bruins and the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League, was reported in fair condition today with gunshot wounds in the stomach and left shoulder.

Police said Mackell, 37, was shot during an argument with an unidentified woman in his car Wednesday. Mackell was vacationing in Florida.

Divers Continue Campbell Search

By GRANVILLE WATTS

CONISTON, England (AP) — Royal Navy frogmen readied to explore the dark depths of England's Lake Coniston today for the body of British speed ace Donald Campbell — strapped in the cockpit of his sunken jetboat, Bluebird.

The boat, powered by an aircraft jet engine, somersaulted, crashed and sank in 120 feet of water Wednesday as it topped 300 miles per hour on the brink of exceeding Campbell's own world water speed record.

Divers were using powerful underwater lights to search the chilly waters of Coniston in the mountainous lake district. Immediately after the crash they found it too dark to see below 70 feet but nevertheless found Campbell's helmet, shoes and oxygen mask amid pieces of his 12-year-old jetboat. His teddy bear mascot was picked up, too.

"Campbell was firmly strapped to his seat and we expect to find him still in the cockpit," said Norman Buckley, chief official observer of the record attempt.

"Campbell always said that if something serious happened he didn't stand a chance," Buckley added.

Although the 45-year-old British daredevil had a jet engine behind him, he had no ejector seat for use if things went wrong.

In a way, this was typical of an ardently patriotic Englishman who courted death to emulate a famous father — Sir Malcolm Campbell, who set up world land and water speed records in the 1930s.

Donald Campbell was the first man to hold land and water speed records in the same year.

In 1964, he reached 403.1 m.p.h. in his gas turbine-engined car, Bluebird, and hit 276.33 m.p.h. on water in the speedboat of the same name. It was in an effort to beat his own water record that Campbell perished.

Why did he do it?

"I think he did it for Britain," said Leo Villa, Campbell's chief engineer. "You can laugh at that, but Campbell was really proud of this record. He wanted to extend it so that it would be more difficult for anyone to beat."

Rule Changed Over Time At Bat On Bunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players who bunt for a hit will no longer automatically escape being charged with a time at bat, even if base runners advance on the play.

Charley Segar, chairman of the Scoring Rules Committee said Wednesday, "It's been obvious that players have been bunting for a base hit when their teams are losing, say 8 or 9-1."

Instructions to official scorers have been changed to read, "do not score a sacrifice bunt when in the judgment of the scorer the batter is bunting for a base hit and not solely for the purpose of advancing a runner or runners. In that event, charge the batter with a time at bat."

Sale Of Reds Expected To Be Completed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sale of the Cincinnati Reds to a group of businessmen is expected to be completed soon despite delays in building a sports stadium and the awarding of a professional football franchise to the city.

Completion of the sale has hinged indirectly on the city getting an American Football League franchise and a new riverfront stadium. City officials have said the stadium will not be started until assurance is given that the city will get the football team.

The new Red owners have indicated they will sign a 40-year lease to play in a new stadium. It was hoped that sale of the baseball club by William O. DeWitt would be completed by Jan. 9.

The city had also hoped to have assurance by Jan. 9 that it was getting the football team. A spokesman said, however, that the awarding of the franchise probably will be announced after the AFL-NFL championship game Jan. 15.

Francis L. Dale, president of 617 Inc., the new owners of the Reds, said Wednesday he was optimistic that the city will get the AFL franchise and his group's deal for the Reds will be completed.

617 Inc. will hold a board meeting tonight at which time the group is expected to ask the city to withdraw the condition that says the city must have assurance of a pro football team in order to get the stadium.

As an alternative the group may ask DeWitt for an extension on the closing date for buying the Reds for an estimated $7 million.

Oak Glen Wrestlers Face Mingo Tonight

Oak Glen wrestling team will meet Mingo Junction tonight on the Oak Glen mats in a makeup match beginning at 7 p.m. Coach Vince Monseau also announced that Morgantown High School which defeated the Bears 28-25 in a wrestling match last month informed Oak Glen officials that an ineligible wrestler had been used in the heavyweight division. Oak Glen has been awarded the victory giving the Bears a 3-0 record.

Hula Bowl Is Filled With Best Grid Talent

HONOLULU (AP)—The Hula Bowl game Friday night will have more outstanding players than any other all-star football game has ever had, declares Stanford coach John Ralston.

Ralston and Darrell Royal of Texas are coaches of the South squad. It will face a North team directed by Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Murray Warmath of Minnesota.

Ralston noted Wednesday that Steve Spurrier of Florida and Bobb Griese of Purdue will be the opposing quarterbacks. They have been rated the top two collegiate performers all season.

Among the running backs are Mel Farr of UCLA, Clinton Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse, Pete Pifer of Oregon State and Charlie Brown of Missouri.

Rod Sherman of Southern California and Harry Hones of Arkansas will alternate at flanker back for the South.

George Webster of Michigan State and Purdue's George Catavalos, who made the clutch interception of Southern Cal's pass for a two-point conversion in Purdue's 14-13 Rose Bowl victory, will be in the North's defensive lineup.

Among the outstanding interior linemen are Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas, John Lagrone of Southern Methodist, Gary Bugenhagen of Syracuse, Jack Calcaterra of Purdue, John Richardson of UCLA, and Diron Talbert of Texas. Ends Jack Clancy of Michigan and Tom Greenlee of Michigan are on hand.

A sellout crowd of 24,000 is expected in Honolulu Stadium for the game starting at 7:45 p.m. (12:45 a.m. EST).

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of our parents Georgia Williams who passed away Jan. 5, 1960 and George Williams who passed away March 15, 1941.
We lost a Mom and Dad with hearts of gold
Who were more to us than wealth untold
Without farewell they fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep.

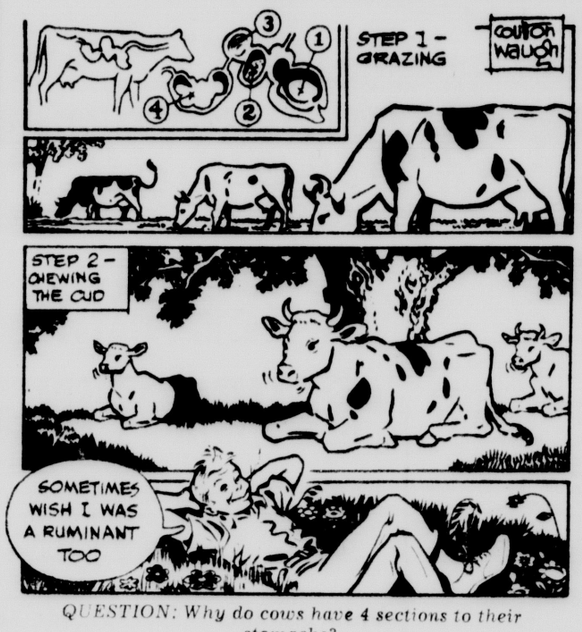
Junior Editors Quiz on COWS



QUESTION: Why do cows have 4 sections to their stomachs?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Cows, along with goats, deer, sheep and others, are ruminants, which are grazing animals having a remarkable digestive system with four stomach cavities. Ruminants grab bites of grass and swallow them with little chewing. The food goes into cavity No. 1, the rumen, where bacteria begin to break down the hard cellulose walls of the plants. Next, the food goes to the reticulum, cavity No. 2, where it is turned into balls called cuds. Now the ruminant lies down in some sheltered spot, where in a wild state it would be protected from enemies. Here the cuds are passed up into the mouth to be thoroughly chewed. The cuds have been softened enough so they can be further broken down as the lower molar teeth revolve against the hard gum above in a grinding action. Then the softened food passes through the two other stomach cavities, the omasum (3) and the abomasum (4) and finally into the intestines, where it is digested and passed into the blood stream to furnish nourishment for the animal.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Make an experiment at your next meal. Ruminate—that is, chew more slowly. Your food will taste better.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Is there any way I can make my bathroom mirrors "steam-proof"?

A.—You can usually do this by coating the mirrors with a little soap-type shaving cream. Rub the excess off with a dry cloth or tissues.

Q.—How can I make a better job of painting a plastered wall surface for the first time?

A.—By sizing the plastered wall beforehand. This sizing is for the purpose of sealing up the pores in the plaster, and can be obtained from any good paint dealer. Or, a coat of first-class interior varnish, thinned with turpentine, and colored with a little of your wall paint, will also do a good job of sizing.

Q.—How can I remesh a zipper that has pulled out of its slider?

A.—Remove the slider to the open end, hold it loosely, and insert the end tooth on the pull-out side into the slider where it belongs. Be careful to hold flat the rest of the zipper in front of the slider, so close they almost touch. If you are holding hem correctly, you can hold he ends of the tape so the slider pulls up and meshes the teeth.

Q. — How can I clean aluminum?

A. — Mix ammonia, borax and water, and apply to the aluminum with a soft cloth. Another method is to wash in warm soapy water, and then dry and polish with whiting.
